PRETZELS!

We beg to state to the trade and consumers that we have commenced the manufacture of Pretzels by machinery. They are made on a new machine of which there are but three in the United States, and are far superior to the old-fashioned, hand-made Pretzel, being uniform of beautiful color, palatable and crisp.

These goods are highly recommended for dyspeptic complaints, and for general family use and saloon lunch they have no equal.

Ask your Grocer for them.

WARLIKE.

Great Britain Preparing for Armed Intervention in Egypt.

The Conference, a Failure—European News—Flashes Over the Cable—Foreign News.

England.

LONDON, July 3.—It is announced this morning that the Government is determined the Commons shall sit from to-night until Gladstone's motion, which he will offer this evening, that the rules of urgency be adopted to expedite the passage of the repression bill be settled.

SUSPENDED.

The London Government has suspended the order to tranship 2,500,000 gallons of petroleum illegally landed and stored on the banks of the Hoogly.

WARLIKE PREPARATIONS.

LONDON, July 3.—It is stated a committee under Gen. Sir Garnet Wolsley met at the War Office to-day. Before rising they will settle the arrangements for the pay, clothing and victualling of an army of reserve, whose calling out is shortly expected. At Woolwich harness equipments are being hastily prepared for a number of batteries, such as are used in countries destitute of good roads. The men-of-war Ajax and Agamemnon, now at Chatham, have been ordered to prepare for immediate service.

CALLING OUT THE RESERVES.

LONDON, July 3.—The Mobilization Committee has just concluded a very important sitting of several hours at the War Office. It was decided to make arrangements for calling out the reserves in view of the urgency of the situation in the East. The shipment of troops to Alexandria and Malta is going on uninterruptedly, and within a week a considerable army will be available for the protection of British interests in Egypt.

THE IRISH PARTY.

The Irish Parliamentary party met in caucus this forenoon and agreed on a programme of future action. It was decided to adopt filibustering tactics in the House and to meet the Government's motion against McDonell with an amendment.

France.

PARIS, July 3.—It is stated that if Turkey persists in abstaining from European accord, it is predicted the conference will be obliged to entrust intervention in Egypt to a mixed corps of English, French, Italian and Greek troops.

Turkey.

ONSTANTINOPLE, July 3.—In the confer[illegible] yesterday Turkish occupation [illegible] Egypt [illegible] discussed. There was a stro[illegible] difference [illegible] as to advisability of Turkey taking [illegible] No decision was reached. An [illegible] conference is probable.

India.

SIMLA, July 3.—The Bombay government has received instructions to be prepared for the shipping of a contemplated military expedition to Europe.

PITTSBURG PARK.

Entries for the Races Which Begin There To-morrow.

PITTSBURG, PA., July 3.—The eyes of admirers of fast horses are again turning to Pittsburg Park. On Tuesday a specially attractive programme will be given. A purse of $1,000 will be given for pacers in the 2:25 class. The entries are Rostraver, Bay Jim, Capt. Jack, Eddie D. Fuller, Princess, Cole Dickey and High Jack. The latter will not likely start, as he was poisoned on Thursday last at Grand Rapids between heats. A ten-mile race has been arranged between Miss Jennie Ivey and Miss Minnie Williams, of Missouri. They will use ten thoroughbred horses, and will be allowed to change whenever they desire. The circuit races commence at Homewood on the 11th inst., and will continue four days. The entries closed Saturday night, but as all nominations sent by mail up to that date are good, the list will not be completed for a few days. The horses heard from are Felix E. McCrees, Mattie H., who is without a record, but entered in 2:38 class, King Wilkes, entered by John Spear, Fannie Irwin, Tom Bradley. George Saunders will bring Tom B., Largesse, Wm. H. and Great Clingston. McCall's Otto K. will go in 2:35 class. W. P. Maxwell will start Big Ike and pacer Charley A., Effie, Gis W. Kelly's entry; P. Schatz will be represented by Rolla, with a record of 2:28¾, and by Jewell. Tola, owned by C. Styles, of this city, will be in the 2:29 class. His record is one-quarter higher. Another local horse, Mercutio, owned by Capt. S. S. Brown, is down in the 2:29 field. His record is 2:30¾. Sue Grundy will be in the 2:26 class. Billy Bair, who drove Maud S. on this track last year, will pull the lines over Bliss at this meeting. This horse goes in 2:23. For same class John Bachelor has entered Mattie Graham. Other trotters entered are Dick Organ, Mollie Kistler, by John Call; R.P., by owner; J. H. Morris, by Gus Wilkes, Leontine and Buzz, Medium by R. Steele. In addition to Charlie H. there are entered for the free-for-all pacing race Mattie Hunter by John Splan, Ben Hamilton by A. J. Hews, Lucy by Sam Keys and Princess by D. Muckle. There are a number of horses at the track not entered. Among these are Kate McCall, Headlight, Blueskin and Humorist. The prospect for the meeting and horses as named and classified will be found the best field yet seen on this track. A large majority of entries for both occasions are now in the Homewood stables.

Massacre Memorial.

WILKESBARRE, PA., July 3.—The 104th annual reunion of the Massacre Memorial Association met at the Monument Grounds, Wyoming, this morning. The monument was decorated with flowers and ripened wheat. Flags were displayed at half-mast. The order of exercises consisted of prayers, singing and addresses. The attendance of old settlers from all parts of the State was large.

Dead.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

MARYSVILLE, O., July 3.—Col. Noah Orr, the Ohio giant, is dead. He was eight feet high and weighed 540 pounds.

Wife Murder.

CINCINNATI, O., July 3.—A Little Rock, Ark., special says: News of a tragedy in Cross county has just been received. A negro named Aaron Jones, living near Wittsburg, started for the railroad station, some miles distant, accompanied by his wife, and at a lonely spot they quarreled. He struck her on the head with a slung shot, then cut her throat and escaped. She recovered sufficiently to crawl to the house of Col. N. P. Johnson and tell her story and then died. The husband has not yet been arrested.

A WATERSPOUT.

It Inflicts Great Damage and Loss of of Life in Colorado.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, July 3.—Colorado Springs specials say a water-spout of enormous proportions passed over Manitou Springs late Saturday. Every house in the place was damaged. The water came down the mountains through Williams, Ruxton and Ute Pass canyons like a foaming wall eight feet high. Several excursion parties not since heard from are known to have been in the canyons at the time. One body, washed down Williams Canyon, was recovered. A 'bus loaded with passengers, was swept from the street by the torrent and landed high and dry on the rocks. A large number of horses and cattle were carried away. The Denver and Rio Grande loses a mile of track.

RAIN.

CINCINNATI, O., July 3.—There was a terrible rain storm in Guernsey county last night. Buildings and crops were destroyed and trains delayed.

The Congressional delegation with the body of Representative Hawk, of Illinois, is at Cambridge, Ohio.

The Strikes.

NEW YORK, July 3.—The freight-handlers' strike continues, but the railway companies are moving goods regularly nevertheless.

GONE TO WORK.

PHILADELPHIA, July 3.—The Pennsylvania railroad officials announce this morning they now have a full force of freight-handlers employed at all the freight piers in New York and at the grain elevators on the Jersey City side. They are now in a position to promptly handle all East and West bound traffic and anticipate no further delay in the delivery of goods, a majority of their men having gone to work at the old rates.

IRON FINISHERS.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

PITTSBURG, July 3.—The iron-finishers are holding a meeting with closed doors.

Ship-Caulkers.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

BOSTON, July 3.—At a meeting of ship-owners the shipwrights voted to resist the ship-caulkers' strike and not pay caulkers over $3 50 per day for six months.

Wounded by a Desperado.

CHARLESTON, MO., July 3.—John Bryant, Marshal of Columbus, Ky., was dangerously wounded this morning at 3 o'clock, while trying to arrest Kilgore, the murderer of Gardiner, who was shot at Belmont a week ago. Kilgore was in a cabin, about three miles north of Belmont in the swamps, trying to make his escape.

The weather here has been extremely hot, and one case of sunstroke occurred at Bird's Point Friday.

Sanders, here in jail, and who was to be hung June 30, has had a stay of execution for the present.

The watermelon crop looks fine, and thus far promises a large yield.

Indications.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 3.—Tennessee and Ohio Valley and Lower Lake Region, partly cloudy weather, with local rains, southerly veering to westerly winds, stationary or lower pressure. Upper Lake Region, partly cloudy weather with rain, variable winds shifting to northwesterly, stationary or higher temperature, falling followed by rising barometer. Upper Mississippi Valley, partly cloudy weather, local rains, variable winds shifting to northwesterly, stationary or lower temperature, higher pressure. Missouri Valley, clearing weather, colder northwesterly winds, higher pressure. Ohio River will continue rising.

A Victim of Whisky.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

ALTON, ILL., July 3.—Hugo Than, a barkeeper, jumped into the river at the foot of Henry street Sunday morning with suicidal intent. When sinking for the last time he was rescued and brought to land and resuscitated by vigorous applications. He declares his intention to kill himself at the first opportunity. He is a victim of whisky mania.

Poisoned by Toadstools.

CHICAGO, July 3.—A widow woman named Hanley, living near Streator, Ill., yesterday poisoned herself and five small children by eating toadstools. She supposed them to be mushrooms. Medical assistance was summoned and recovery is now possible.

Visitors to Lake View.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CLEVELAND, O., July 3.—There were twenty-five thousand visitors to Lakeview Cemetery yesterday, a tribute to the remains of Garfield. It was the anniversary of his death.

Suicide in a Cell.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 3.—Franklin Pierce confined in the penitentiary for stabbing a woman, was found unconscious in his cell. He cannot recover. It is supposed he took morphine.

Horse Thieves Killed.

LINKVILLE, OREGON, July 3.—Constable Beak, with two men, last Tuesday overtook two horse thieves they had been tracking. A fight ensued, in which one thief was killed and the other mortally wounded.

$20,000 Damage.

WASHINGTON.

Robinson's Anglophobian Resolution in the House.

Committees — Congressional — Capitol Chatter—Political News.

Committee.

WASHINGTON, July 3.—The House Committee on Appropriations agreed to insert in the sundry civil appropriation bill a clause restricting the operations of the National Board of Health to the diseases of yellow fever and cholera.

The Senate Finance Committee virtually decided to strike from the bill to reduce the internal revenue taxation the House proviso allowing a rebate or drawback of the full amount of reduction on all original unbroken packages of checks, matches, cigars, cheroots and cigarettes held by manufacturers or dealers on passage of the act and upon which a tax had been paid.

Ordered Home.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, July 3.—Com. Shufeldt is ordered home from China. There is no official complaint, but recently the Chinese Legation found fault with Shufeldt's reflections on the character of the Chinese Empress.

Bond Calls.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, July 3.—A bond call for fifteen million sixes will probably be issued Wedesday. Secretary Folger says that the proposed two per cent issue will not materially effect the plans of redemption.

Coinage.

WASHINGTON, July 3.—The coinage at the mints of the United States for the fiscal year ending June 30 is valued at $117,841,574, of which $27,772,075 was standard silver dollars.

House.

WASHINGTON, July 3.—The following bills were introduced and referred:

By Mr. Berry: To abolish the State of Nevada and attach it to the State of California.

By Mr. Robinson, of New York: A resolution of inquiry. It recites the constitutional provision which prohibits any Senator or Representative being questioned for any remarks spoken in debate. It states that on the 25th of January, 1882, Lionel Sackville West, accredited Minister of the British Monarchy in this city, called upon Secretary Frelinghuysen and questioned the remarks delivered in the House the day before by Mr. Robinson and expressed his disapproval of the resolution of the Committee on Foreign Affairs, and closes with the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Secretary of State is directed to inform this House, without reference to its incompatibility with public interest, whether said British Minister suggested any punishment for those who had spoken in that debate January 24, without his leave; whether he suggested the appointment of a British censor to revise before publication the speeches delivered in the House and Senate; whether he suggested the person best fitted to administer the soothing syrup to the British lion when disturbed by the eagle's wing; whether he suggested an official recognition of the New York Tribune, founded by Horace Greeley, a member of the Irish Directory of '48, as a British organ in the United States, in manifest injustice to the equal claims of the Times, and whether said British Minister suggested that, as we had saluted the British flag at Yorktown, he thought we had permanently pulled down our own, together with as full a report as possible of the conversation which passed between said Minister and the Secretary of State on the 25th of January, 1882.

The Senate bill passed for a public building at Terre Haute, Ind.

CARONDELET JOTTINGS.

The decision given in the inquest on the body of Jos. Galbraith, living on Marcean, near Jackson street, who was found dead in bed on Sunday morning, is that he died of apoplexy.

The high water has seriously interfered with the foundries along the river. On this side the Glendale Zinc Works and Jupiter Blast Furnace had to close down, and across the river work has ceased in the Meyer foundries.

On Saturday, in Judge Lobezingers court, Jacob Faust brought suit against Antoine, contractor and Hugh McDonald, owner of the building on which Faust worked, to the amount of $41. The jury gave judgment for plaintiff and costs.

Michael Kelly, a corporal from Jefferson Barracks, drove furiously up Main street last night, running into street cars Nos. 2 and 3 of the South St. Louis Line. To add to this, near the Mount Pleasant House, he drove over two ladies. He was before Judge Von Gerichten this morning, but as numerous citizens are to bring out a joint warrant he lies in the hold-over.

Ward, a member of the club, threw down the sponge that Henry Vogel would not kill the birds straight, plunge traps, distance thirty yards. A pile of money was put up and Vogel shot so neatly that he received an ovation when he laid out his tenth bird. Numerous sweepstakes were organized and the large crowd gave the club members many congratulations on their fine new park and successful debut. The press has a neat stand set aside for its use, and Hado, the efficient manager, felt proud of his work.

The first regular match and champion-medal shoot came off yesterday at the Carondelet Gun Club's new park. Fourteen came to the scratch to contest the medal, and after a good shoot all round had been brought to a close Phil. Weber was declared the winner. The following is the list and scores, ten bids allowed distance thirty-five yards: E. D. Hodd, 5; H. Beckmann, 7; Umberhien, 8; A. Beckman, 7; Labee, 5; J. Weber, 5; Herman Nagel, 4; P. Weber, 10; Henry Vogel, 9. B. O'Reilly, 7; Hoffmeister, 4; Freund, 6; Meyers, 9; Pserling, 6. Hado presented the winner with the medal, saying that in value it was not much, but it is a trophy to be proud of in Carondelet. It bears the legend championship, Carondelet Gun Club, and must be won three years consecutively.

Grain Receivers.

A meeting of grain receivers was held in the reading-room of the exchange this afternoon to devise some means for relief in the matter of short weights on grain received and sold on Union Depot track.

Crumbs of the Courts.

The Probate Court stands adjourned until Monday, July 17.

Letters of administration were granted to-day to John B. Beckermann, administrator of Herbert Willoh; estate valued at $750.

Letters of administration were granted to-day to Peter Schumacher, administrator of Louisa Moormann's estate, valued at $1,600.

The bid of R. W. Emerson, $2,625, for the stock in the matter of Blockman, Vogel & Co.'s assignment was accepted to-day in court.

Judge Lindley adjourned his court to-day for the summer. Several appeals were perfected. Judge Boyle expects to adjourn this evening for the term. Judge Adams will adjourn in a few days.

The court to-day ordered ex-Sheriff Finn to pay into court $8,670 47, balance of proceeds of sale of property to satisfy tax judgments, and leave was given Jemima Lindell and Wm. D. Griswold to interplead for the same at the October term.

The trustee of the defunct Times, Frank J. Donovan, has moved for a modification of the decree rendered in the Times case by Judge Lindley a few days since, so far as it relates to allowance of his diminished account, $275, in lieu of $3,000 claimed.

The U. S. District Attorney was advised to-day that the Supreme Court of Ohio had affirmed the case of Robert M. Lindsay, formerly of St. Louis, who was convicted at Columbus and sentenced to nine years in the Penitentiary for land frauds.

The Circuit Court, Judge Lindley, to-day ordered the clerk to pay Assignee John R. Lionberger, of the Broadway Bank, $6,000, in the garnishment proceeding of Wolfort vs. Gehner, in which was involved the assignment of J. Phil. Krieger and wife. The case was dismissed at cost of defendants.

Post-office Inspector Dyas and Deputy Marshal Wheeler succeeded to-day in recovering $160 worth of stamps stolen by James Hindle, who burglarized the Columbus (Ky.) Post-office. After the burglary he went with some of the booty to Cairo and thence expressed the stamps to the care of a saloon-keeper here.

A PARTISAN POLICE.

Representative Clergymen Denounce Gov. Crittenden's Action.

The following interviews will show what representative clergymen of St. Louis think of the Governor's plan of making up the new board:

REV. DR. BOYD,

pastor of the Second Baptist Church, was asked what he thought of the Governor's plan of organizing the board in the interest of the party.

"I think it most unwise, especially as the executive has made the announcement previously. It is my opinion that in the matters over which the Board of Police Commissioners has control, politics should not figure at all, should not be considered. The management of the police of this city is a thing with which politicians should have no connection."

"You know that Gov. Crittenden has stated that he has grown tired of the Sunday School people and that his next appointees would be men who would look out for the party."

"That is a curious statement to make." "I do not think that any man should be appointed because he is or is not a Sunday school man." Fitness for the position should be the sole test. My explanation of the Governor's actions and words is that he is convinced that he has lost the support of the people who are not in politics as a business. Satisfied of this, he means to endeavor to bring to his aid all the power that demagogues and professional politicians can muster. It seems to be his last resource.

Rev. Dr. Scofield said that he did not approve of the plan and was sure that it would be condemned by the people outside of politics most generally.

Rev. Dr. Reaser said that he was opposed to any such action or statements. To act upon such an idea must result in harm.

Several of the gentlemen at the minister's meeting this morning were averse to having their names used, but they all condemned the policy attributed to the Governor of making a political machine of the board. More than one of them declared that everybody was interested in having the police kept free from all influence, from every side, and that a declaration from the Governor that he would put the board in the hands of men who would look out for the party simply meant that the Governor was attempting to bolster up his waning political strength although he weakened the safeguards thrown around life and property. Said one clergyman who was met, "It is time, when the Governor makes such statements, that the power to organize the board in the interests of anybody should be taken from him. The people of St. Louis should control their own police force, which they cannot do as long as the Governor controls the appointment of the board."

The Military Prize Drills.

The military encampment at Indianapolis is a great success, and great interest is manifested in the drills by all military men in the country. The grounds of the encampment are situated about three miles from the city, and all the companies of infantry as well as the artillery are enjoying themselves in camp style. Each company must do its own cooking, and rations are furnished by the managers of the camp. On Saturday there were five sections of artillery competing for the prize, but when the hour for dress parade came there were still two sections who had not drilled, and they will go through their programme to-day. They were the New Orleans and Louisville batteries. The general impression is that the St. Louis Battery are in the lead. The infantry contest is rife with excitement, as the Chickasaws are smarting under their recent defeat and are making an effort to wrench the banner from the Crescent City. Meanwhile the St. Louis Company K is practicing hard and finds many ardent admirers. The prizes will be awarded on next Friday.

Attempted Assassination.

Mark Hickey undertook to blow Wm. Dwyer's brains out Saturday evening, and failed; and was arrested to-day for assault to kill. Hickey was a watchman for the Mississippi Valley Transportation Company, of which Dwyer is superintendent, and becoming dissatisfied with the way Hickey was working, discharged him Saturday noon. A few hours later Hickey returned, and creeping behind Dwyer and placing a revolver to his head was about to pull the trigger, when one of the clerks on the boat discovered him and raised an alarm, causing Dwyer to throw back his arm just in time to knock the revolver upwards, the bullet flying wide of its mark. Hickey endeavored to fire again, but was disarmed and managed to escape. At noon to-day Officer Gardiner met him on the leeve and took him in charge. Dwyer preferred charges of assault to kill.

Found Dead.

At 3:45 o'clock this morning Officers Sappington and Dunn found a dead man on a lumber pile near the corner of Plum street and the levee. The body was sitting in an upright position, with the head leaning against the lumber. Apparently the man was about forty years old. He had red hair and mustache and a weeks growth of beard of the same color. He had on gray jeans pants, a blue woolen shirt, brown tweed coat, shoes and a black slouch hat. There was nothing found on the body by which to identify it. There were no marks of violence or evidences of murder and robbery. The Coroner was notified and the body removed to the Morgue and placed on the slab. An inquest will be held.

Fatal Accident.

The coroner was notified this morning of the death of a man at the Missouri Elevator in Carondelet. Louis McKinney, an employe at the elevator was at work this morning on the machinery floor, when he suddenly slipped and fell through the "circle" floor in the cupalo of the elevator, a distance of twenty or thirty feet. The accident happened at 8:30 this morning, and fifteen minutes later the man was dead. The man was removed at the request of the elevator people and placed in the Morgue. An inquest will be held at 3 o'clock.

A Poor Child's Fate.

A short time ago a woman giving her name as Emma Smith came here from Illinois and entered a disreputable house at No. 222 Almond street, kept by Lillie Morris. The woman brought with her a little girl ten years old, who she said was her daughter. The child was adopted by the proprietress, and a few days afterwards ran away realizing the character of the place. She was found by Officer Dunn and taken to the Central Station. Finding that the place was disreputable, the child was taken before Mayor Ewing and sent to the House of Refuge.

Forcible Ejectment.

Jacob Kumpf & Bro., proprietors of a saloon opposite the Four Courts, proceeded to eject a tenant this morning in a forcible manner. W. H. Bush, a lawyer has occupied an office in the building and, it is claimed, has not paid his rent. He was sued, but no money came of the operation, and he refused to move. He was bounced this morning by Kumpf. The lawyer swore out a warrant against the saloonkeepers for assault and battery.

AT the orphan's picnic to-morrow at the Fair Grounds the St. Louis Hurling Club, better known as Mike Walsh's Hurling Team, will play a match Game with the North St. Louis Hurling Club.

CHARLES BROWNING was held in $800 bonds this morning in the Court of Criminal Correction to await the action of the grand jury on a charge of grand larceny.

A MISSING JUDGE

Lays the Lottery Cases Over in the Criminal Court.

A New Lottery Scheme Running—Lehndorf Talks About His Book.

To-day all the lottery cases except those against Warren F. McChesney were docketed for trial in the Criminal Court. Fully an hour before the appointed time for the meeting of the court the 4-11-44 men and the gambling co-ordinates of the Pate scheme were on hand in the court auditorium, while the attorneys crowded the bar. One hundred and fifty jurors were present, over half of them packed in the middle aisle awaiting the opening of court, when they were to present their excuses to his Honor. The crowd buzzed about the lottery cases and jostled in and out of the court-room impatiently awaiting the opening of court. At noon Judge Laughlin, who was supposed to be sick at his country home on the Lackland road, had not put in an appearance or forwarded any word. After a consultation Col. Normile and Sheriff Mason agreed to discharge the jurors and witnesses until 2 p. m., when it was expected that Judge Laughlin would be on hand or forward some word concerning his condition or whereabouts.

NEW LOTTERY OFFICES OPEN.

To-day some of the lottery men who had assembled at the Four Courts to stand trial on the indictments returned against them were muttering low complaints. The fact was discovered with some trouble that eight vendors had opened lottery shops. The identity of the vendors or the head men in the scheme is not even known to the lottery-men. One of the offices threw open its doors this morning near the corner of Eighth and Morgan sreets. Many of the men who hope to escape with light punishments are sorely troubled over this bearding the law on the verge of the trials in the Criminal Court.

While the lotterymen were loafing about the Criminal Court this morning Mr. Lehndorf brought up the statement that Chief Kennett's name appeared on the lottery-men's books, which was first published in the POST-DISPATCH. Said Lehndorf: "There never was such a book in that safe. I know all there was in that safe, which I owned, and the only thing was my bank book. I never owned any such book as was described last Saturday."

"The accounts between yourself and your wife, it is said, are in that book?"

"It is not truer I never paid Kennett a nickel in my life. This book was not in that safe unless it was placed in there by the Circuit Attorney after it passed into his hands. I know I never had any book like this containing Kennett's name or the name of any official in the city. He'll make it hot for the reporter that wrote that thing when he gets back." With these advices of what Chief Kennett's action will be the lottery manager left to consult with an alleged attorney on the chances of getting off.

This afternoon a messenger from Judge Laughlin's farm on the Lackland road brought intelligence that his Honor has been confined to his room since Saturday last, and will be unable to hold court until next Wednesday. An adjournment was taken until Wednesday morning at 10:30 o'clock, when the lottery trials will be taken up.

The Official Umpires.

The official umpires appointed by the Directors of the American Association at the meeting in Cincinnati yesterday have been announced. They are Geo. H. Bradley, of Cleveland; Robert Ross, of Pittsburg; Mike Walsh, of Louisville, and Thomas Carey, of Baltimore. These umpires travel with the clubs and receive a regular salary the same as the players. The system of the home club choosing the umpire for each game has caused such dissatisfaction that the new plan was adopted as the best to prevent further trouble. Carey will be here with the Louisvilles on Wednesday, will umpire the games here and will go off on the trip with the Eclipse and Browns when they leave. The statement previously made that two of the games in dispute between the Browns and Louisvilles will be played here and one in Louisville is a mistake. The three games will be played here.

An Office for Each of Them.

The first meeting of the new Board of Police Commissioners will be held at the Four Courts on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The first business will be the election of officers and considerable interest naturally attaches to the question of who they will be. A thorough canvas of all parties concerned gives the following as the slate: Vice and Acting President, Dan Kerwin; Treasurer, Mr. Aleck Kinkead; Purchasing Member, Mr. Frank X. McCabe; Member of the Board of Health, Mr. David W. Caruth; Mr. George Gavin will be re-elected Secretary of the Board. Mr. Kennett's successor has not yet been announced, but a close guess grazes Mr. Larry Harrigan's occiput.

The new members, accompanied by Mr. Kinkead, made an informal call on Mayor Ewing shortly before noon to-day. No business of an official character was transacted.

The Thermometer.

Last night's temperature was remarkably cool and pleasant, the thermometer going down to 65° at 2 o'clock. This morning at 6 o'clock a small cyclone struck the city and held the temperature to a refreshing degree. The thermometric readings during the day were as follows:

At 7 o'clock, 69°; at 8 o'clock, 70°; at 9 o'clock, 71°; at 10 o'clock, 73°; at 11 o'clock, 75°; at 12 o'clock, 77°; at 1 o'clock this afternoon, 82°; at 2 o'clock, 88°; at 3 o'clock, 90°. The indications are those of lower temperature and local showers.

New Buildings.

Mr. Michael Fox will erect a $3,100 brick dwelling house in the south side of Dodier street between Eighteenth and Nineteenth streets.

Mr. Sohn A. Hensgen is about to build a new brick dwelling on the south side af Easton avenue, between Grand and Spring avenues; cost $1,750.

Mr. W. D. Barter's three brick dwelling houses about to be built on the south side of O'Fallon street, between Twentieth and Twenty-first streets, will cost $5,000.

The three brick dwelling houses which Mrs. Eliza McKee is about to build on the east side of Ohio avenue, between Lafayette and McCree avenues, are estimated to cost $8,400.

The Ministerial Association.

The members of the Ministerial Association held their regular meeting this morning at the rooms of the Presbyterian Board of Publication. There being no subjects of importance on hand for discussion, the ministers spent most of their time in the usual social chat and congratulating each other on the several installations that have taken place during the past month. Among those present were the Rev. Drs. Van der Lippe, Nicolls, Ganse, Brank Hollifield, Marquis, Henderson, Dunn, Reaser, Porteus, Williams, McCoe, McComb, Thompson, Marks, Allen, Wood and Aufderheide.

The Bridal Bulletin.

Rinkel's Death Rumored.

A rumor was circulated about town this afternoon that George Rinkel had died from the effect of the injuries received yesterday afternoon from the attack made upon him by roughs at Rinkelville. The most industrious examination failed to find any foundation for the report. At the Four Courts Acting Chief Huebler had heard the rumor, but did not believe it true. From the statement of Rinkel's injuries received here it is not believed that there is anything in the rumor.

CITY HALL NOTES.

More Streets to be Reconstructed With Granite—Other News Notes.

A special meeting of the Board of Public Improvements was held this morning, and July 24 was set as the date for receiving bids for the reconstruction with granite of the following streets: Chestnut, from the wharf to Twelfth street; Olive street, from the wharf to Fourth street, and from Twelfth street to Grand avenue; Washington avenue from Fifth to Twelfth streets, and Clark avenue. Successful bidders will not be required to commence work under their contracts before April 1, 1883. July 25 was set as the date for receiving bids for the reconstruction with granite of the following streets: Seventh from Cerre to Market; Pine from Sixth to Twelfth, Olive from Seventh to Twelfth, Locust from Sixth to Twelfth and from the wharf to Fourth street; St. Charles from Fifth to Twelfth; Vine from the wharf to Fourth street; Christy avenue from Third to Fourth and from Seventh to Eleventh. Successful bidders will not be required to commence work before August 1, 1883.

Twenty-four burial certificates were issued to-day.

The Commissioner of Supplies to-day bought a spring wagon for the Quarantine Hospital, a lot of lumber for the Poo-hrouse, a number of meters for the Water Commissioner and a lot of iron window guards for the Insane Asylum.

Barbara Penrose, a colored girl, 13 years of age, was taken with small-pox yesterday, and this morning she was removed from the residence of her parents in the rear of No. 709 North Fourth street to Quarantine.

Jailor Ryan this morning forwarded to the Mayor his monthly report for June. The total number of prisoners detained in the jail during the month just ended was 155, 143 of whom were male and twelve women. The total cost of maintaining the institution was $3,182 67.

Receipts at the City Treasury to-day are; From the Commissioner of Public Buildings, $372; from the Missouri Pacific Railway Company, $4,000; from the Jailer, $48 30; from the President of the Board of P. I., $97 05; from the City Collector, $4,019 44; from the Commissioner of Supplies, $183 75; from the Inspector of Weights and Measures, $30 35, and from the Adreon scales $13 40.

The Mayor's office was crowded all day with representatives of the young idea anxious to shoot on the glorious Fourth. Boys of all ages, sizes, complexions and dispositions were on hand, and a more orderly string of waiting humanity were never got into line than that which stretched from the top of the stairs on the second floor of the Chestnut street wing of the City Hall to the desk in Secretary Smith's office, whence the permits are being issued. Major Ewing is very generous to the boys but very firm in his determination to permit no bonfires. Sundry applicants for permission to set the cheerful blaze a-going to-night and to-morrow night were turned away, much to their own disappointment.

Among the callers at the Mayor's office this morning was Mr. P. A. Beed, a colored brother representing the Knights of Tabor and Daughters of the Tabernacle, a colored benevolent insurance organization. The object of the call was to inform the Mayor that by the death of Mrs. Georgie Cunningham her son Willie, now and for several years past an inmate of the House of Refuge, had fallen heir to $300, that sum being one-half of the deceased woman's endowment in the association. Mr. Reed is anxious to have a curator appointed to take charge of the money until the boy comes of age, which will not be for seven years or more. Mr. Reed was referred to Judge Woerner, of the Probate Court.

Mayor Ewing this morning committed a little girl named Kate Smith to the House of Refuge. Kate's mother is a woman of the town, and until recently was an inmate of a notorious den on Almond street. The child was born in wedlock, but the father is dead. The mother not long ago gave the girl into the care of Mrs. Kase Morris, who promised to take the best of care of her. Letters of adoption were formally drawn up, signed by the Smith and Morris women, and filed in the office of the Recorder of Deeds. It transpired, however, that Katie's new mother was worse, if possible, than her natural one. Katie told the Mayor a horrible story of cruelty and inhuman treatment which she had endured at the hands of Mrs. Morris and implored to be sent to the Refuge. Her story being corroborated by the police, her request was granted.

A SPORTING EVENT.

Wrestling Match Between the Scotch and Vermont Champions.

Duncan Ross, the Scotch champion wrestler, who is now in Louisville, Ky., has uttered his willingness to make terms for a wrestling match with John McMahon, the Vermont champion, who is now stopping at Tom Kelly's, Sixth and Market streets, in this city. It has been agreed so far that the match will take place in St. Louis and that it will be the best two out of three throws, the holds to be side, collar and elbow, and catch-as-catch-can. The men are well matched and the sports are anxiously awaiting the completion of the specifications and challenge.

Coroner's Inquest.

The Coroner held an inquest on the body of Anna Humeier this morning at No. 1012 Dillon street. The woman was employed as a servant at the house and yesterday afternoon about 2 o'clock met her death. Jeanne Tufts testified that she lived in the same house on the first floor while deceased had been employed on the second floor. Witness heard Mrs. Humeier overhead going from her kitchen to a small porch which is built out from the second story. She leaned over the railing to empty a dish of slops, and as she did so the railing broke and she was precipitated to the ground. Witness ran out and assisted the woman into the house. In about an hour she was dead. A verdict of death from the effects of internal injuries, caused by accidentally falling from a porch at No. 1012 Dillon street, on July 2, at o'clock p. m., was rendered.

The June "Squeeze."

The St. Louis parties who were "short" June wheat to J. B. Oliver have secured the services of Messrs. Overall and Judson and of Col. D. P. Dyer to attend to their side of the case when it is arbitrated. These lawyers and A. W. Slayback, for Oliver, were on the floor to-day looking up evidence bearing on this case. The Arbitration Committee will probably be called for next Wednesday and the case tried the latter part of the week. It is learned that Ben Barnes is the heaviest short, he owing 360,000 bushels, upon which he has put up $75,000 in margins.

SOLOMON ZUEGLER, a farmer residing fourteen miles in the country, sent a boy to town this morning with a team of mules with lacerated shoulders. Officer Walsh, of the Humane Society, took the boy and team to the Chestnut Street Station, where the sores on the mules' shoulders were measured and found to be half a foot square. Zuegler visited the station and was jailed, but released later on bail.

INDEPENDENCE DAY.

How It Will be Observed in St. Louis To-Morrow.

The Glorious Fourth—Picnics, Shooting Tournaments, Fireworks and Excursions.

As far as quiet celebrations go, Independence Day will be celebrated in St. Louis in a very general manner. As a public holiday it will be marked by a general suspension of business and a closing of the exchanges, courts, public buildings, etc. Further than this, no notice will be taken of the fact that the day is a national holiday. In the matter of picnics, excursions, etc., the people who want to escape the noisy firecracker and the smoking and disagreeably smelling bonfire, have a large number to pick from. Perhaps the main attraction which occurs annually and with the attractions of which the people are best acquainted is the Orphans picnic at the Fair Grounds. The event this years will be more successful than ever before. Nearly all the parishes in the city will have tables and will vie with each other in the attractions the will furnish. The various Catholic Societies will will attend attend in uniform. All arrangements are made; and the comfort of those attending will be carefully looked after.

In addition to the usual picnic feature there will be athletic sports in the amphitheater. Among them will be a bicycle race, in which twelve members of the Missouri Bicycle Club will participate. The first prize will be a gold medal and the second a bicycle lamp. There will also be horse and mule races, foot-racing and a hurling match.

The annual picnic and games of the Scottish Clans will be held to-morrow at Normandy Groves. Six electric lights will make the ground as bright as day, and a special display of fireworks will be given. The games will begin at 11 a. m. Several of the most noted athletes and cricketers of the city will attend and participate in the games, which are free to all. The members of the clans will be present in full Highland costume, and will superintend all arrangements. The programme includes a race for boys under 14 years, 500 yards; a hop, step and jump; a race for boys under 12 years of age, sons of members of the clan; a 3-legged race; a running jump; a standing high jump; throwing the heavy hammer; tossing the cabor; a sack race, (100 yards); a foot race for gentlemen, amateurs; a broad sword dance, a Highland fling and a dozen other attractive games. The programme ends with a race for single Clansmen, the prize to be a Scotch bonnet, presented by a lady. Trains leave the Narrow Guage depot, Grand avenue and Olive streets, every half hour after eight o'clock a. m.

The National American Association will hold its second annual celebration to-morrow at O'Fallon Park. The grounds are all in readiness, ten large tents and a marquee having been erected. Miss Laura Glore will sing the Star Spangled Banner, accompanied by a chorus of thirteen young ladies, clad in costumes of the thirteen original States. There will be base ball, cricket, croquet and a good time generally. Rev. Dr. Vincil will read the oration of the day. Music and dancing will be prominent features.

The first annual picnic and games of Golden Crown Drill Corps, Knights of Pythias of this city, will take place to-morrow at the Belleville Fair Grounds. A grand prize drill, open to all uniformed divisions and drill cups will be given. Each division in corps must have sixteen men in line. The programme will open with grand march of uniformed members and Knights of the order, the march to be inaugurated at 10 a. m. The games are open to all comers. They include a fat men's race, sack races, running and jumping, slow and three-legged races, mule racing, etc. Trains leave Union Depot every hour, and stop at all way stations.

The fourth annual excursion and picnic of the Shaw Club takes place Tuesday, on the Chas. P. Chouteau, going to Shaw's Grove, thirty-two miles down the river. The number of tickets is limited to 300. Dancing music will be furnished and no intoxicating liquors will be sold on board.

At Sportsman's Park, on Grand avenue, a splendid display of fireworks, prepared especially for the occasion, will be given to-morrow night, commencing at 8 p. m. Before the fireworks, a number of athletic sports will entertain the audience.

At the Pickwick two free matinees will be given to-morrow to the poor children of the city. The performances will take place at 1 and 3 p. m. Prof Logrenia will give a musical performance, and will introduce his trained birds, mice, etc. Three thousand tickets are to be distributed, which may be had by application at the theater between 9 a. m. and 5 p. m. to-day and between 9 a. m. and 12 m. to-morrow.

The St. Louis Gun Club will give their annual shoot at the Compton Avenue Park, beginning at 7:30 a. m. to-morrow. The City and the Insurance Medals, both held by Charles Peck, Jr., will be shot for. The Gun Club people will be at the grounds all day, and expect to have a very enjoyable time.

The Holy Cross Church will give its annual picnic to-morrow at Walter's Park in Baden.

St. Columbkill's Parish will give its annual picnic to-morrow at Klausman's, at Carondelet.

The Young Men's Temperance Union will give a picnic to-morrow at Neiman's Grove, leaving the foot of Washington avenue at 8:30 a. m.

The Exchanges and public buildings all close together, and there will be only a morning delivery at the Post-Office.

JUDGE BAYLIS W. HANNA writes Col. J. C. Normille from Terre Haute that the oration delivered at the Knights of St. Patrick banquet was declaimed at the commencement exerces at Wabash College, Ind., by John Schrum, who was awarded the first prize for his elocutionary attainments.

The Love Affairs of a Princess.

London Cor. of the Philadelphia Telegraph.

There is, I believe, no foundation whatever for the report extensively circulated recently to the effect that Princess Beatrice was engaged to marry the Landgrave of Hesse. In fact, there is no longer a Landgrave of Hesse, and the head of the house is the Grand Duke Alexander, the widower of the Princess Alice. The younger man would scarcely be considered a suitable match for the Queen's daughter, even had there been any truth in the rumor that he aspired to her hand. Both "Trix" and her mamma are said to be dreadfully annoyed about the circulation of the false report. Surmise has been busy for years respecting the Princess Beatrice's love affairs. No doubt she was much attached, in a sisterly sort of fashion, to the Prince Imperial, but she was never "in love" with him, in the popular acceptation of the term, whatever the unfortunate Prince's aspirations might have been. Many people would have it that the Prince of Wales went to the House of Lords and voted for the deceased wife's sister bill because Princess Beatrice wished to marry the widower of her late sister, Princess Alice. This report is also, I belive, devoid of foundation. Princess Beatrice's one love dream was connected with Canon Duckworth. Such an alliance, alas! could never be sanctioned, and there is certainly one woman in England who has no reason to feel thankful for exalted rank, since it has caused her a life-long heartache.

A Noted Vehicle.

From the New York Tribune.

One of the principal objects of interest at the approaching coronation of the Czar will be the carriage of the Czarina, which is the same that was presented by Frederick the Great to the Empress Elizabeth. It is a sort of double throne upon wheels, and is hung, not upon springs, but upon huge bands of velvet. Within it is upholstered with red velvet, and has a large mirror in front. The coachman's seat accommodates four persons. It is drawn by eight horses of purest white, wearing harnesses of crimson velvet encrusted with gold and precious stones. The cost of furbishing up the twenty-three vehicles of which the cortege is to consist has amounted to 230,000 rubles, or $172,000.

PHOSPHATES.

Next to Cotton, South Carolina's Greatest Wealth.

M. Quad in the Detroit Free Press.

Nature has indeed dealt kindly by South Carolina. She has pine and other woods; she has the largest beds of phosphates in the world; she has the best of ship-building timber she has marl and lime; she has a climate which is very mild and genial, and a soil which will grow all the fruits of the topics and many of the cereals of the North. In May the wheatfields along the lines of railroad through South Carolina looked as promising as anywhere in the South, although we have been told many times a year that she cannot raise wheat. This, citizens say, is only true of the hottest part of the State. Every county can grow corn, potatoes, turnips, etc., and at least half of the State will grow good wheat. Where it is too warm to grow wheat she can offset the loss by the prolific growth of other cereals.

That grand mine of wealth, the phosphates, was known of previous to the war—even a hundred years ago, but it is only within the past twenty years that there has been any great demand in this country for phosphates. The beds opened along the Ashley river, convenient to the great works and to shipping, have returned over $2,000,000 in cash, and yet have only been touched. The same mines of wealth exist in the beds of other streams—in swamps along various highways. Scientists have had many a dispute over the specimens brought up from the bed of the Ashley river. Major Willis and other interested parties in Charleston have collected many wonderful specimens and sent many away. There are jaw-bones, backbones, ribs, leg and thigh bones of animals of which the present age has no description. Some are the remains of mastodons—others of great fish and strange submarine monsters. Some lie at the bottom of the river within a few rods of salt water—others miles from the sea under the pines.

While the great phosphate works above Charleston are digging, grinding, shipping and counting up the cash received for the dust of these curious bones, the scientific world is wrangling as to how they came there. Did some great tidal wave sweep in from the ocean and drive every living thing in Charleston Bay over the beach? Did some great wave scoop out the bay itself from a swamp or lagoon? But some of the bones are of land animals—monsters which must have towered many feet above the great Jumbo. How is it that their bones came to be mixed with those of whales, sharks, fish and other denizens of the briny deep? Was there a great convulsion of nature—an earthquake—a dark day—a terrible cyclone—a something that caused thousands and tens of thousands of land animals to gather in certain localities? And when they had gathered, what happened? Did the mighty sea roll in and overwhelm everything, carrying its inhabitants along with the wave to mingle with the brute creation? It must have been some such convulsion, but how strange that men should find in that phenomenon, thousands of years after, a source of sordid gain!

While the wrangle goes on the grinding and pulverizing never cease, and the product is being shipped to every quarter of the globe where fertilizers are demanded. Charleston not only supplies hundreds of points in the South with the bones in bulk or in bags ready to use, but ships to London, Liverpool, Glasgow, New York, France, Germany, Russia and to other countries. South Carolina has at least $10,000,000 in this work, and has only fairly developed the beds. In the course of the next five years the profits on the capital invested will equal any bank stock.

ALL "wants" ten cents.

A Well-Posted Brother.

From the Burlington Hawkeye.

"Now, out in Burlington, where I live," the jester went on, hastily breaking in on the fat passenger's attempt to say something, "there was a woman, a neighbor of mine, whose husband belonged to more lodges and societies and fraternities and leagues and orders and unions and clubs and rites and teams and things than the two of them could count in a week. Why, this man used to take some of his meals at home, and he went to bed in regalia. Plain, but regalia. And from force of habit he used to call his wife 'Worshipful Mistress,' and he addressed his children as 'Junior Wardens' and 'Chief Tough Moguls' and 'Most Worthy Bashi Bazouks,' and other titles. That man's children grew to regard the entire system of secret societies of the United States as their father. They had a vague idea that they were in some degree blood relations of Solomon, and they told their Sunday-school teacher that their grandfather worked on the Tower of Babel, and they always spoke of Hiram Abiff as "Uncle Hiram." They believed that Great Heart was a post commander in the Grand Army of the Republic. And this man used to go down and pound the boiler, and hold one corner of the blanket, and grease the pole and help heat the pitch nights when there was a candidate to be assassinated; and he watered himself into a dropsy at a Good Templar meeting, and fermented himself into a beer vat at Druid picnics and ate himself into a chronic indigestion at Odd Fellows' suppers, and sat up nights with sick Grand Army comrades, and visited Masonic widows, and comforted Knights' orphans—female—16 years and upwards, and he danced himself into a paralysis, and gets his eyes blacked at all sorts of balls, and has a good busy time of it, and was considered a capital fellow because he had to write 'S. O. O. F. W., and B. B. G. E., and E. O. D. tf. and W. 2, T. p. d.,' after his name every time he wrote a letter or registered at a hotel."

The First Napoleon's Sleeping Car.

From the Philadelphia Press.

Mr. W. Barnet Le Van, M. E., of Philadelphia, says that from all accounts, no doubt, Napoleon I. used, in 1815, the first "sleeping dining-room and parlor car" that was ever built. This car, or chariot, was taken at Waterloo, and was presented to the Prince Regent of England, by whom it was afterward sold to Mr. Bullock for $12,500. It eventually found its way to Madame Tussaud's wax work exhibition, London, where it may still be seen. This very curious and convenient chariot of the First Emperor was built by Symons, of Brussels, for the Russian campaign, and is adapted for the various purposes of a pantry and a kitchen, for it has places for holding and preparing refreshments, which, by the aid of a lamp, could be heated in the carriage. It served also for a bedroom, an office, etc. The seat is divided into two by a partition about six inches high. The exterior of this ingenious vehicle is in the form and dimensions of our large coaches, except that it has a projection in front of about two feet, the right hand half of which is open to the inside to receive the feet, thus forming a bed, while the left hand side contained a store of various useful things. Beyond the projection in front, and nearer to the horses, was the seat of the coachman, ingeniously contrived so as to prevent the driver from viewing the interior of the carriage, and yet so placed as to afford those within a clear sight of the horses and of the surrounding country. Beneath this seat is a receptacle for a box, about two and one-half feet in length and four inches deep, containing a bedstead of polished steel, which could be fitted up in a couple of minutes. Over the front window is a roller blind of strong, painted canvas, which, when pulled out, excluded rain while it admitted air. (This might be an advantageous appendage to our present car windows as well as carriages.) On the ceiling of the carriage is a network for carrying small traveling requisites.

A Blind Witness.

From the Detroit Free Press.

In an assault and battery case before a Wayne County Justice the other day, the prosecution introduced a blind man, who had to be led to the witness-box.

"Is this a legal trial or a farce?" demanded the lawyer for the defence, as he sprang up.

"This is a legal trial," replied the other lawyer.

"And you want a blind man sworn to tell what he saw, do you?"

"I don't claim that I saw the fight," replied the witness as he turned around.

"Then what do you know about it?"

"Well, sir, I'm going on the stand to swear to what I heard. I've been blind and lame and had corns and boils for the last fourteen years, but when I hear the splinters fly from a rail fence I don't want any eyes to tell me whether the plaintiff hit the top rail with his head or feet! I heard the 'kerchug' of the blow, and when the plaintiff came down and hollered: 'Oh! lands; but I'm a licked man!' I knew by the way he hung to his words that he'd lost half his front teeth. I'm ready, your Honor!"

Greatest Discovery on Earth!

THE ORIENTAL BEAUTY HERB.

How Turkish Houris and Parisian Ladies Preserve their Beauty.

Returning from the Orient, we offer to the ladies of America the most jealously guarded secret of the Turkish harems. We refer to THE ORIENTAL BEAUTY HERB, or Serkys, which preserves the beauty and freshness of youth to an advanced age, clearing the complexion of all blemishes, and giving it the transparency and loveliness of the rose.

This precious herb, which has remained in mystery, was discovered and presented to the Sultana of Osman I. by a dervish. We need not expatiate upon its wonderful virtues, but will quote from the works of Dr. Paul Lucas, who traveled in Turkey by order of Louis XIV.:

"They told me an infinity of marvels concerning the effects of this herb and assured me that the ladies of the harems who use it appear at the age of forty as fresh as if they were twenty-five. My position as physician to the King of France served to introduce me to the widow of Hassan Pasha. I was surprised to see her waited upon by two young women of apparently twenty-five years of age, whereas I knew it was customary for her to be waited upon by old women only. What was my astonishment to learn that both these young women were over sixty years of age, and that they owed their youthful appearance to the use of this herb. Its use also conduces to a full bust, and makes the flesh firm and hard."

THE ORIENTAL BEAUTY HERB is much in use by the fashionable ladies of Paris, as it brightens the eyes, removes sallowness, premature wrinkles, pimples, tan, moth-patches, freckles and other defects which mar beauty. It is not a face powder or lotion, but is taken internally; is perfectly harmless, and gives that crowning glory to women, a skin of Oriental softness and transcendental purity and beauty.

It is said that Ninon de l'Enclos, the Empresses Josephine and Eugenie owed to its use their remarkable preservation of beauty.

It has now been placed upon the market in this country, in prepared packages, at $1 per package; six packages for $5.

The Post-Dispatch will be printed to-morrow and will contain all the news up to 3 o'clock p. m.

The Knapps have once more secured control of the police of the city. We presume they will now work the "machine" for all that it is worth.

The bean weevil is devastating the large bean-raising districts of New York, and Boston speculators are now exploring the country for new sources of supply for that city.

Are not the gamblers a little hasty in selling off their implements and outfittings? With an exceedingly lenient Governor and an amiable Police Board the old town may be worked a little yet.

When Pate was spoken to about the new Police Board appointees he professed not to know them, and they are not obscure citizens either. It can hardly be possible that the Governor made these appointments without at least conferring with Mr. McChesney.

We have a Police Board now that will organize the police force so that it will assist the dirty Democratic ward politicians to pack primaries and nominate tickets that the people will have the privilege of beating at the polls. And for this the tax-payers are indebted to Bob Pate's, Governor.

The new Police Board will learn with regret that the old gamblers are selling off their implements and closing their establishments forever. With gambling entirely suppressed in St. Louis, it will be difficult at times to secure funds to keep the political "machine" running at full head. But there are other criminal classes to be taxed we presume.

The Vermont Democrats have invented a tariff plank which is admirabl[illegible] adapted to [illegible] a-comin' or a gwine." It favors [illegible] tariff for revenue with just discriminations favoring the agricultural, industrial and commercial interests of the whole country." This rivals the negro's celebrated trap, we think.

It is observed that all the old Democratic ward politicians and ballot-box manipulators speak in the highest terms of Dan Kerwin. His excessive honesty, integrity, simplicity, kind-heartedness and devotion to Democracy touch the Gilhooleys in the big wards very profoundly. They are accustomed to the worship of men possessing these glorious attributes.

It was originally intended that the Metropolitan Police system should separate the police of the State from politics. Beneath the rule of a Governor entirely great this design would be carried out, but the pigmy Crittenden has finally turned the police of St. Louis over to the service of the Democratic ward politicians. Now let's see what will come of it.

The first duty of the new Police Board, created by Bob Pate's Governor, will be to so organize the force under its control as to assist the Democratic ward bummers in organizing the primaries on the 22d and securing a solid Crittenden delegation to the State Convention. The police must aid the "reformed" gamblers in indorsing the benignant State Administration.

Four more gamblers were pardoned on Saturday by Bob Pate's Governor. When Mr. Crittenden mentioned that he had not established a precedent in pardoning Pate and his crowd he probably made a mistake. It is understood now that pardon will be extended to all the gambling felons, lottery men included. If the "manly" gentlemen will all plead guilty they will relieve the courts very much.

When it was supposed that Circuit Attorney Harris was dying, Mr. Francis Xavier McCabe reported that he had been requested by the Missouri Republican gang to accept the successorship. The fortunate recovery of Mr. Harris made it impossible for Mr. McCabe to serve the Knapps in the capacity of prosecutor in the Criminal Court, but through the kind co-operation of Bob Pate's Governor he has been inserted where he will be able to do them some good.

Aside from the Garfield family, the worst sufferer by Guiteau's crime was his brother-in-law, George Scoville. With no motive but a loyal sense of duty and tenderness for his wife, he made the very best defense that the case admitted of, and made it under circumstances that would have driven anybody else out of the case. Badgered, abused and thwarted by the ungrateful and cranky family he was serving, he patiently bore his load, and Corkhill now says that "it would have been much easier to fight Ben Butler than George Scoville under the circumstances." And now he finds himself penniless, separated from the wife for whom he has sacrificed so much, and yet obliged to let her keep their little daughter in order to mitigate the craze which sends her roaming over the country abusing him as the destroyer of her sweet brother, who once tried to kill her.

The Republican is deeply moved by the statements made by Daniel Kerwin, the Police Commissioner, to a reporter touching his intentions toward the hoodlums of the city and the unfortunate creatures of the opposite sex who provide the city with "social evil." Mr. Kerwin proposes to play the part of repressionist. It would be well for him not to proceed with too much zeal. It should be borne in mind that Gov. Crittenden has a warm side for people who are "born that way," and it may not please him to have Mr. Kerwin suddenly converted into an "engine of severity."

ENGLAND AND EGYPT.

The Opposition in England are making a good deal of capital out of the awkward situation which they claim to be the direct result of substituting Gladstone's Eastern policy for that of Baconsfield. The policy of the latter, they say, made English influence paramount at Constantinople and in Egypt, and this influence at Mohammedan headquarters, together with the acquisition of control over the Suez Canal, the great highway to the East, fortified the relations of England with the Mohammedans of India. But it is charged that since the accession of Gladstone to power, German influence has superseded that of England at Constantinople, and Bismarck's intrigues have not only borne fruit in the Arabi Pasha insurrection, but in the complete isolation of England in the matter of enforcing the Anglo-French protectorate over Egypt's fiscal resources for the benefit of her creditors, and in the protection of the Suez Canal, which Arabi threatens to destroy.

Bismarck is supposed to be pleasing both Austria and Italy by showing the Sultan how he may render his sovereignty over Egypt somewhat less nominal than it is, and some very suggestive circumstances have indicated that Arabi Pasha's proceedings were secretly encouraged and directed from Constantinople. It is even said that the influence of Bismarck is seen in the attitude of France, which seems inclined to let England fight her way out of the Egyptian troubles alone, although she joined England in substituting Tewfik for Ismail as Khedive, and in assuming control of Egyptian revenues for the benefit of the English and French holders of Egyptian securities.

And now Arabi Pasha's practical dethronement of Tewfik and control of the budget, the massacre and expulsion of foreign residents under the very guns of British men-of-war, the conspicuous loss of British influence and prestige where such loss can have the worst effect in India and upon the security of a vast commercial empire, all combine with Egypt's English creditors to force the Gladstone ministry into the very kind of a war which, on account of India and the Suez Canal, England has most reasons to deprecate. There is neither glory nor acquisition in it for her. She is marshaling her fleets and concentrating her troops merely to protect her highway and her control of India in a conflict which will array the feelings of the Mohammedan world against her, without entitling her to much Christian sympathy.

No land on earth has been more cruelly victimized by foreign interference than Egypt, and Arabi Pasha seems to be trying to rid her of burdens and outside influences such as no American State would rest under when it could by any means throw them off. For years past the Government of Egypt has been run by rings of foreign jobbers, who led the Khedive into all sorts of extravagances, they furnishing the money on their own terms, stealing it back in contracts and lending it again, till the public debt amounted to $500,000,000, and the crops of the poor tillers of the soil were all confiscated to pay the interest and the expenses of the Government. It is said that 2,000 Europeans are now holding office under the Egyptian Government; that their average pay is that of a Bengal civilian who rules over a conquered province, and that their sole aim is to promote the financial schemes of various concerns. When the crop of the Egyptian peasant's little patch is harvested, he must pay his taxes or sell it to an agent of the Credit Foncier or the Bank of Egypt, and he is bastinadoed and jailed until he pays by sacrificing his crop for money borrowed at an interest of four per cent a month. In view of such facts, the popular support of Arabi Pasha and the outbreaks that have recently driven 70,000 foreigners out of Egypt, are not such very strange happenings as to be impossible in even a Christian country.

THE THREE GRACES.

In strict accordance with his promise to fill up the vacancies in the St. Louis Police board with men who would "do something for the party," Bob Pate's Governor on Saturday last named as Police Commissioners Daniel Kerwin, David Caruth and F. X. McCabe—all Democratic partisans of the most approved pattern. It was not possible, under the circumstances, for Crittenden to find three first-class citizens willing to accept an appointment under him. The clear and emphatic announcement that he had allied his administration to the criminal classes for the purpose of aiding and strengthening the corrupt ring of Democratic politicians in St. Louis was certainly sufficient to deter eminently respectable and fair-minded gentlemen from accepting an office which would subject them to great embarrassment, not to say suspicion. It may not be an exaggeration to say that the Governor has done tolerably well, considering that he might have tendered these vacant Commissionerships to Jack Looney, Wm. Carroll and James Eagan with a perfect show of consistency. He pitched the key a little this side of them for obvious reasons.

Mr. Kerwin, who is to be the Executive of the Board, is a gentleman who deals in iron and dabbles in politics as a "divarshun." He prides himself on being a ward organizer and it is his opinion that the chief end of man is to put a "Dymmicrat" in office. His statesmanship is not that of the broad and comprehensive kind. He would probably be able to see more distressing complications resulting from the death of a neighbor's dog than the demise of an European potentate. Mr. Caruth is a bachelor business man of some character, very liberal in habits and suffering somewhat from an unexplainable itch to be Mayor of the city. His inexperience in police affairs, coupled with his devotion to the party, will make him a serviceable and servile tool of the ring. Mr. F. X. McCabe is a young lawyer, who probably owes his appointment to the fact that he is the partner of Wm. C. Jones, who is chairman of the Democratic City Central Committee, and a probable candidate for the Criminal Court Judgeship. He will doubtless bring to the discharge of his duties as Commissioner a fair share of that finesse and delicacy of divination which enabled him, with the assistance of his partner, to adjust the unfortunate Hazeltine-Amweg difficulty a year ago. The salary of a Police Commissioner is $1,000 a year.

It will be seen that Mr. Alexander Kinkead, the sole sad survivor in the Police Board, has been beautifully and appropriately reinforced by gentlemen who will be likely to avail themselves of his superior knowledge and experience in dealing with crime. The appointment of Kerwin, Caruth and McCabe is hailed with delight by all the Democratic ward schemers and strikers. They recognize the fact that the police force is henceforth to be a factor in ward politics and that appointments to the force are to be regulated by service to the Democratic party instead of fitness and character. The demoralization which will follow this policy will soon be felt, and by the time the Legislature assembles there will be a strong demand for the breaking up of the system which takes from the people of this city the right of local self-government. One of the primary principles of the Metropolitan Police system is to remove the police of the several cities of the State from political influences. In his original selection of Police Commissioners for this city the Governor showed some appreciation of the law and regard for the interest of the people who pay for the maintenance of their police protectors. Since his shameful surrender to the gamblers Mr. Crittenden has abandoned all outward show of decency, and he has now thrown himself into the arms of the scabby politicians and has turned the police over to the men who will maintain political rings and look after his political interests.

On the 22d inst. delegates will be chosen in St. Louis to attend the Democratic State Convention to be held at Jefferson City on the 26th. It is Crittenden's desire to have that body indorse his feeble administration. The first work of the new Police Commissioners will be to so employ the police as to control the Democratic primaries in the interest of their masters. The spectacle will not be an edifying one to citizens who have an idea that police were instituted among men for the protection of life and property and the preservation of order, and in the end we doubt whether the Democracy of St. Louis or the corrupt mannikin in the Gubernatorial office will be particularly benefited by the prostitution of our public guardians to political ring purposes.

The New York Times, Tribune and Sun, the Philadelphia Times, and the independent and anti-Cameron Republican papers in the East generally commend the action of the Pennsylvania Democrats as unusually sagacious, and their ticket as an exceptionally strong one and just suited to the occasion. The New York Times says it destroys Cameron's last hope, and that nothing but his surrender can save the Pennsylvania Republicans from defeat. The Tribune speaks of Pattison as "an almost ideal candidate for Governor," and says "his nomination will make it much easier for many conscientious Republicans to defeat their own party, if that extreme remedy should unhappily be necessary in order to crush out Bossism." If Cameron refuses to surrender the chances are certainly very favorable to the success of the Democratic ticket. That success will put the next Democratic National Convention as wholly under Pennsylvania influence as the convention of 1876 was under New York influence, and will probably make Mr. Randall the heir-apparent of Mr. Tilden. Can the Democracy unite on a Pennsylvania candidate and elect him as in 1856? All speculation on this question may as well be postponed till we learn whether the Cameron influence is still strong in the councils of Pennsylvania, and whether it is possible to make real peace between the Randall and Wallace factions of the party. The obstacles in the way of a Democratic victory in the Union are about as numerous and hard to overcome as ever.

The food crops of this year in the United States, so far as they have ripened or passed beyond the danger-point, are yielding prodigiously. West of the Mississippi especially, the yield of wheat is unprecedented. There is no longer any question that the abundance of vegetables, fruits and all cereals, except corn, will exceed the national crop of any previous year, and with one more month of as favorable weather as we have been having the corn crop will also surpass all former ones. The agricultural interest, the basis of all prosperity, was never before in better shape as a whole at the beginning of July. On the other hand, the crop reports from Europe are unfavorable, and, either with or without a war growing out of the Egyptian troubles, we are certain of an export demand for our grain that will again turn the balance of trade in our favor. The depression following last year's crop failures is disappearing, and the outlook for fall and winter business is most encouraging.

The break in the Madison levee yesterday appears to be the result of gross negligence in the dike builders. In order to avoid destroying a sixty-acre field of wheat the embankment was not carried across a farm at the head of Jabouret Slough, and the result is the inundating of some twenty thousand acres by water pouring wildly through the gap that was not closed. Fortunately most of the submerged land was uncultivated swamp, and if the river does not rise at least two feet higher, but little money damage will be done to the farmers. But, as the case stands, Old Mississippi has Madison county utterly at its mercy.

The Salisbury Enterprise wants some one to relieve its intense anxiety by informing it what shade of politics the Post-Dispatch represents. To which we rise to reply that there is nothing at all shady about the politics of the Post-Dispatch. As our Salisbury contemporary very accurately puts it, the Post-Dispatch is "one of the best papers in the country and is warranted to always drive away the blue devils." Casting out the devils of both parties, irrespective of color, is politics enough for a paper that is not an organ, and if the impartiality with which this is done be an indication of hybrid propensities, the Post-Dispatch can plead guilty without a blush.

The strike of the freight handlers has raised the question whether the railroads do not lay themselves liable for damages in failing as common carriers to deliver freights rather than pay laborers the wages which the New York press and Board of Trade unite in declaring to be just and reasonable. The Attorney-General of New York says he deems "it his privilege and duty to begin proceedings for testing this question at once." It is simply a question whether common carriers use "due diligence" in delivering freights when they refuse to pay reasonable wages for the necessary labor.

Some Republican papers are frequently found quoting the Post-Dispatch as a Democratic paper. It is not a Democratic paper, and does not claim to be, and these fellows know it. They only show their want of candor when they quote it as such—it is Independent.—[Unionville New Century.

Thank you. We believe in Democratic principles, but in a thoroughly independent way. In other words, we are not "a organ."

The new Police Commissioners, who were appointed by Bob Pate's Governor, were sworn in this morning. They took an oath not to be governed by political considerations when making and unmaking policemen. Dan. Kerwin must have smiled when he subscribed to that clause of the oath.

On Saturday last we printed a bit of a communication raising a question as to the citizenship of Dan McCormack, a Patrolman on the police force. Mr. McC. has been around to see us and we take pleasure in saying that he is a citizen of the United States in the fullest sense of the word. He renounced Queen Victoria and all allegiance to the British crown in 1863, and he has the papers to show for it.

It is understood that Mr. Mackay's principal ornament was a check-book.

"Their Nobs."

St. Louis, July 1, 1882.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

In enumerating the persons bearing European titles living in St. Louis you mention Earl O'Sullivan of Beara, whose right to that title was recognized by George III., and state the gentleman is clerk in a dry goods store and very reticent about his nobility. I think there is some mistake. A recognition the O'Sullivans got from the English Government was at Dunboy—"in Bantry Bay"—in Elizabeth's time, where some 140 of them defended the fort for about a week against 5,000 soldiers—the Army of Carew—repulsing assault after assault, and finally fighting from floor to roof while there was an Irishman alive.

"'Twas held by McGeohogan,
For the last O'Sullivan Bear"— the last recognized by England. I understood the male line of the O'Sullivans of Beara terminated about eighty or a hundred years ago, when Murtough Oge O'Sullivan was shot by Puxley, leaving no son or no recognized male successor. His nearest relative—I forget whether sister or daughter—still remembered around Bantry—married into a family of Welsh descent. Her very numerous descendants, with the exception of a New York family which bear the old Irish name of Cuddilihy, have Welsh, Norman and Cromwellian names. But I have met a few, and they all agree in this: They hate John Bull like h—l, from the back-bone and spinal marrow. They want no recognition from him. If St. Louis has the direct lineal descendant of the old chiefs of Beara and Bantry, which, however, must be much questioned till an affirmative is proved, he has better nobility than can be patented to him by any English King and need not be reticent about it. It is many years ago since the old Bantry folks gave me the pedigrees. Will some one experienced in Bantry lore settle this? One of the Clan.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

When the Pates and other noted St. Louis gamblers went to jail for dealing faro we closed our "bank" and intended going west, but, thanks to Dr. Crittenden, we still live and can be found at our place of business willing and anxious to take in the "suckers." Come up, Mr. P.-D., when you want an evening's diversion. We will use our best endeavors to make it pleasant for you. One of 'Em.

The Politics of the "P.-D."

From the Salisbury (Mo.) Enterprise.

Will some one please relieve our intense anxiety by informing us what shade of politics the St. Louis Post-Dispatch at present represents? One day it pats the Republicans on the back, the next it toadies the Greenbackers, and the next it is just a "leedle" bit Democratic. The paper, however, aside from its hybrid propensities, is one of the best in the country, and is warranted to always drive away the blue devils. In fact, its editorial page is continually in a broad grin.

The World Moves.

From the Philadelphia Times.

Think of the long Bourbon and faction-ridden Democracy of Pennsylvania, that has preferred defeat to progress for a quarter of a century, at last breaking through its musty shrouds, declaring for the most progressive and practical reform, and nominating a ticket of such aggressive young reformers as Pattison, Black, Clark, Elliott and Africa. With the whole Democratic organization boldly marshaled under the banner of reform and under the lead of the most pronounced reform leaders, and with a large portion of the Republican party independently organized for reform, it is safe to assume that the deliverance of Pennsylvania is at hand.

THE NEW ELECTION.

Fair Directors to be Chosen August 5—Old Judges Appointed.

Judge Boyle this morning directed the order to be entered in the Fair Directory contested election case. The court finds that the election in January last did not conform to the requirements of the law in various respects, particulars of which have already been published in the Post-Dispatch. In consequence thereof the citizens contesting the election were aggrieved, and it appearing to the court that the parties constituting the Green or Pendleton ticket are now acting as directors of the Fair Association, and as such have control of the affairs, it is considered, adjudged and decreed that the January election be set aside, and it is ordered that an election for twenty-one directors, to act in place of the defendants, be held on Saturday, August 5, at the office of the Fair Association, between 9 a. m. and 4 p. m. The defendants are to cause notice of the new election to be published for ten days previous to August 5. The court appoints as judges of the election N. S. Chouteau, John A. Walsh and A. B. Ewing, and they are directed to receive the votes of shareholders either in person or by proxy where the shares sought to be voted have stood on the books of the company in the name of the shareholders for a period of at least thirty days previous to the date of the election. The judges are to make returns of the election to Circuit Court No. 5 on Monday, August 7, and the secretary of the association is likewise to receive a report. The court holds that the Fair Association shall pay the costs of the litigation. In the event of the Judges named refusing to act, the court will appoint substitutes. Until the election the present board of directors will control the affairs.

HARNESS-MAKERS.

Meeting of National Association—Election of Officers.

The first meeting of the National Harness-makers' Benevolent and Protective Association convened at Turner Hall at 9:30 o'clock this morning. Mr. E. D. Scott, of Cleveland, O., was elected temporary chairman and Mr. H. W. Williams secretary. The following committees were appointed by the chair: On Credentials—H. T. Muldore, of St. Louis; J. H. Bruder, of Louisville, and J. L. Kessler, of Cleveland. G. J. Arand was appointed sergeant-at-arms. A number of communications from various cities were read and filed. The following were appointed a committee to select permanent offices: J. Bell, of Cincinnati; George E. Sloat, of Kansas City; H. T. Muldore, of St. Louis; J. D. Kessler, of Cleveland, and A. W. Williams, of Chicago. The following permanent officers were selected: D. J. Hoban, of St. Louis, president; J. S. Johnson, of Kansas City, vice-president; H. W. Williams, of Chicago, secretary; G. J. Arend, sergeant-at-Arms. On motion the chair appointed the following committees: On Rules—Wm. Cunningham, of St. Louis; J. D. Kessler, of Cleveland; John Bell, of Cincinnati; Wm. Myers, of Kansas City, and Peter M. Steinbach, of Peoria; on Constitution—E. D. Scott, of Cleveland; H. W. Williams, of Chicago; —— Cline, of St. Louis; John Bell, of Cincinnati; Peter M. Steinbach, of Peoria; J. S. Johnson, of Kansas City, and John H. Bruder, of Louisville. The convention adjourned at 12 o'clock to meet again at 2:30 this afternoon. Mr. D. J. Hoban stated to a Post-Dispatch reporter that the purpose of the meeting was not, as stated by a morning newspaper, to organize a strike among the harness-makers, but to organize a mutual benevolent and protective association modeled somewhat upon the style of the Cigar-makers' Union. The question of wages will not be considered.

EAST ST. LOUIS.

The School Board will hold an adjourned meeting to-night for the purpose of appointing school teachers.

The funeral of Jacob Brosius, who died at Belleville Saturday morning, took place at 9 a. m., and was largely attended.

George Crotty has purchased the property near the stock yards formerly occupied by Mr. Jones, and took hold of the business this morning.

A. Crosby was arrested last night for being drunk, disorderly and fighting on the streets. 'Squire Draggon tried the case this morning and imposed a fine of $3 and costs.

Coroner Bader held an inquest on the body of A. Jackson, the colored man instantly killed yesterday by being struck with a wagon pole. A verdict of accidental death was rendered.

James Travine while under the influence of liquor last night created a lively disturbance on the streets and was arrested. 'Squire Draggon will dispose of his case this afternoon.

Assessor Noton completed the assessment of property Saturday evening and returned the books to Belleville this morning. The valuation of property shows an increase of $140,000 over last year.

A horse attached to a grocery wagon belonging to Mr. Pollard, near the Stock Yards, was frightened by boys shooting fire crackers this morning and ran away. The horse was captured before doing much damage.

Frank Lyons was jailed yesterday for stealing some hams from the East St. Louis Packing and Provision Company. His case was set for hearing in 'Squire Lynn's court this morning, but continued till this afternoon. Lyons pleads guilty to the charge.

SWORN IN.

Police Commissioners Kerwin, McCabe and Caruth.

Their Oath Which They Must Violate to Do the Governor's Dirty Political Work.

All Three Happy and Promise the Usual Fidelity, Etc., Etc.

In the late edition Saturday the Post-Dispatch announced the names of the new Police Commissioners. They are as is now well known, Messrs. Dan Kerwin, F. X. McCabe, and D. W. Caruth. The Governor had previously announced that this time he would look out for the party, and would appoint men who would work in that way. That he has kept his word is certain. Two of the three are well-known politicians. Dan. Kerwin has been a member of and prominently identified with the Democratic Central Committee for many years, being president of the organization for a long time. Mr. McCabe is the law partner of Wm. C. Jones, who is now president of the committee.

Mr. Caruth is president of a hardware company. He has not been an active politician, but he is a "good Democrat," and it is to this fact as much as any other that he owes his appointment. A call was made upon the gentlemen this morning, but they were all slightly unprepared to talk.

was seen at his office. It was not too early for callers, however, and the interview was somewhat mixed up by calls and congratulations, which were heaped upon the head Police Commissioner. When the reporter got a chance he began as follows:

"What do you think of the Governor's plan of organizing the Police Board in the interests of the party?"

Mr. McCabe mused and studied awhile. It is a new experience to him to be interviewed as a public official and he was rather over-anxious to appear right on his first entree. After a little thought, Commissioner McCabe said.

"I'll tell you. An hour and a half before I was appointed, I had not the slightest idea that my name was mentioned. When I was asked whether I would accept I was as much surprised as you would be if the office were offered to you. Now, what can I know about the Governor's intentions or plans."

"But the Governor has declared that he would organize the board in the interests of the party. What do you think of the plan?"

"Really, now, we intend to do our duty faithfully and fearlessly. This is an office that I did not want and that I would not accept under ordinary circumstances. I am a lawyer, and I wanted to attend to my private business. As to the Governor's plans, I know nothing at all. I have seen the new appointees and talked with them, and am satisfied that we will all do our full duty."

At this juncture

M. K. M'GRATH,

Secretary of State, came in and became an actor in the dialogue. When the troublesome question was again put, Mr. McGrath spoke up.

"Yes, sir," said the Secretary of State, "Gov. Crittenden did make that remark. He said so to me. He told me that this time he would make no mistake, and would look out for the party."

"And what do you think of the plan?"

"I'll tell you: There are only two of the Governor's actions which I heartily indorse."

"What are they?"

"The pardon of the gamblers and the appointment of the new Police Commissioners."

Mr. McCabe looked regretfully at Mr. McGrath, as if he did not like the classification just made and as if he thought that the Secretary of State was really forgetting himself, but the latter did not seem to care. He continued as follows:

"I don't know much about the appointees personally, but they are all good Democrats, and that satisfies me."

"And you think that they will do all they have been appointed for?"

"If they will make Larry Harrigan Chief of Police everything will be all right. That is what they ought to do, and I hope they will not forget it."

"Well," said Mr. McCabe, "We shall do our full duty. We will not have the gambling question to trouble us."

"But it is said on the streets to-day that gambling will be in full blast in two weeks," suggested the reporter.

"Then just say for me," answered Mr. McCabe, with a great deal more animation and eloquence than he had yet displayed, "that if gambling again rears its head it will be seized by the throat and throttled out of existence. I mean to do my full duty, and I pledge myself to do it."

"What has been done about the organization of the board?"

"Oh, nothing, of course, absolutely nothing. We have not qualified yet, you know."

was next met and asked the same question:

"What do you think of the Governor's plan of organizing the Police Board in the interest of the party?"

Mr. Caruth walked away and thought awhile. He seemed not to like the question. In a minute it was repeated.

"I don't know that it has been done," said he.

"But the Governor said that was his plan?"

"Of course, we are all Democrats, and we are all friendly to the party, but we shall do our full duty, you may be sure."

"When will you organize?"

"Nothing is settled about that matter yet. I have not talked it over with any of the new members."

"And must Kennett go?"

"About that I know nothing as yet. Mr. Kennett is away from the city. Of the cause of his absence we know nothing officially. At our first meeting we will very probably look into the matter and inquire about his absence. It would not do to condemn a man before we tried him, would it?"

"Secretary of State McGrath says you ought to appoint Larry Harrigan to make the programme complete."

Mr. Caruth laughed heartily and was about to say something, when a gentleman stepped out of a carriage at the door and walked in.

"Good morning, Dan," said Mr. Caruth, and the next moment the reporter was shaking hands with the Vice-President of the new board, in all probability. When the all-important question was put to Mr. Kerwin, he answered with a laugh. Being pressed, he said that the new board ought to be judged by their actions.

"We will do what is right, you may be sure."

"And you will work in the interests of the party?"

"We will do our duty. The fair way is to judge us by our actions."

"How about Larry Harrigan for Chief of Police?"

Mr. Kerwin laughed again. He pleaded that the board had not organized nor qualified. He laughed some more as he admitted that he had been long enough in politics to know just what to expect in his new position. The reporter mentioned what Mr. McCabe had said about gambling, and both gentlemen repeated with the exactness of a well-drilled chorus: "That is the talk. Those are our sentiments entirely."

After some further talk Mr. Caruth put on his coat and took a seat in Mr. Kerwin's carriage. Secretary McGrath had brought down their commissions to-day, and Messrs. Kerwin and Caruth were going to hunt up Mr. McCabe, when the trio would wend their way to the Court-house to qualify for the office.

SWORN IN.

Gov. Crittenden's new appointees for the Police Board, Messrs. Kerwin, Caruth and McCabe, stepped into Circuit Clerk Vogel's office this morning, produced their commissions from Jefferson City and qualified for office by taking the following oath prescribed by law:

"We, Daniel Kerwin, David W. Caruth and Francis X. McCabe, do solemnly swear that we will support the Constitution of the United States and of that of the State of Missouri and will faithfully demean ourselves in office as Police Commissioners of the city of St. Louis, and further that in any and every appointment or removal to be by us made to and from the police force, we will in no case and under no pretext appoint or remove any policeman or officer or other person under us for or on account of the political opinions of such policeman, officer or other person, or for any cause or reason than the fitness or unfitness of such person, in the best judgment of us said Commissioners, for the place to which he shall be appointed or from which he shall be removed."

The commission is worded in the usual form, "reposing trust and confidence in the integrity and ability," etc. The date of Mr. Kerwin's commission, succeeding Mr. Maxon, expires January, 1885. Mr. Caruth succeeds Mr. Cupples and his commission expires January next. Mr. McCabe succeeds Mr. Simmons, whose commission expires likewise next January. The salary of the Commissioners is fixed by law at $1,000 per annum. One of the number is selected for treasurer, and he receives $1,500. Bond in the sum of $50,000 is required of him. As the new board has not yet met, the treasurer has not been appointed. It will probably fall to Mr. McCabe, the office having been filled by his predecessor. The new Commissioners bore all the evidence of high satisfaction at their appointment and were the recipients of much hand-shaking congratulation in the office of the Circuit Attorney.

OF COURSE.

In conversation with a Post-Dispatch reporter the new Commissioners expressed themselves somewhat in favor of curtailing executive sessions as far as the interests of the department would admit. They felt that some of the business before the board, involving charges against officers, could not well be discussed in open session. They proposed to do their duty and to exercise their best judgment in all matters coming before them, and nothing of public importance and interest would be hidden from the public. They proposed to call upon the Mayor during the day. As to-morrow is a national holiday, the new board will probably postpone the regular weekly meeting until Wednesday.

"SILVER" BLAND.

The Missouri Congressman Returns Home from the Capital.

Hon. R. P. Bland, member of Congress from the old Fifth Congressional District, now the Jefferson City District, arrived at the Planters' House this morning from Washington, accompanied by his wife and children. Shortly after his arrival he was joined by his father-in-law, Adj.-Gen. E. Y. Mitchell, of Rolla, Mo., who was anxious about the health of his daughter. Mr. Bland, who is generally known as "silver Bill Bland," resides at Lebanon, Mo., and has served in Congress continuously since his first election in 1872, acquiring a national reputation through his financial speeches and his bill remonetizing silver. He is a candidate for the nomination this fall before the convention which meets at Cuba, in Crawford county, August 26. Since the capital was placed in Mr. Bland's district he has endeavored to procure a Government building for Jefferson City. In the race for the nomination he will be opposed by Hon. J. Ed. Belch, ex-Speaker of the House of Representatives, who resides at the capital and has considerable strength. It is currently believed that the contest will be singularly close, but unless something extraordinary should occur Mr. Belch will probably be defeated by a few votes. Mr. Bland stated this morning that he had left Washington at this time at the instigation of his family physician, who had emphatically declared that Mrs. Bland's health required her immediate removal from the National Capital. Mrs. Bland is a pleasant little lady, with black hair and blue eyes, and appeared to be suffering to-day. One of her children is also quite sick. Mr. and Mrs. Bland expect to visit friends in Callaway county next week. Mr. Bland refused to be interviewed on any subject whatever.

THE WIRE MILL INJUNCTION.

Decision To-Day Modifying a Factory Nuisance—City Discomforts.

Judge Boyle to-day disposed of the controversy involving the nuisance to the neighbors arising from the operations of the Harrison Wire Mill, on Twentieth street, near the Pacific track. The plaintiffs, Parkes and others, sought heavy damages and a restraining order. The court finds that plaintiff's premises are rendered uncomfortable in their ease and occupation by offensive fumes and odors emanating from defendants' works and by dust being blown in and upon them from and by reason of the dumping of ashes and cinders in the yard adjoining plaintiffs' premises and by subsequently removing same from said yard; also by noises produced in and upon the premises of defendants by the frequent blowing of a steam whistle at night and by the loud calling of workmen in the galvanizing room while engaged in work. To the extent named above the restraining order will apply, but the court declines to restrain the smoke, and in point of damages gives judgment for one cent only on the prayer for injunction, and $100 on the ground of injury to health. It appears that the residence in question is the only one in the immediate locality, and the Harrison Wire Company made an offer to purchase the property not long since, but the terms were not accepted.

Circuit Attorney Harris.

Mr. Chas. F. Joy this morning received the following letter from Circuit Attorney Harris:

Alba, Pa., June 30, 1882.

My Dear Joy—Your letters received, for which receive my sincere thanks. Our journey was all that could have been expected, until we reached Harrisburg, where by reason of change of time, we missed connection and from there home had to adapt ourselves to such conveyances as we found, a matter extremely tiresome. Since here the weather has been cool and delightful, and the fatigue of the journey has worn away. I feel considerably better than when I left St. Louis and stronger. Your kind remembrances and those of my many friends are subjects of constant gratification to me. Pardon my short letter, for I cannot dictate much. Your affectionate friend, Harris.

NORTH ST. LOUIS.

A delegation of thirty glass-blowers left this morning for Pittsburg, and Newark, N. J.

Mr. Henry Schaeffer, of the Mississippi champion four, returned this morning from a trip to Allegheny, Pa.

Mrs. Julia C. Tracy, the religious advocate, after an absence of two years in the South, returned to the city to-day.

The police of the Fourth District are making a raid to-day on vehicles without a license, and not less than a dozen arrests have been made.

John Slicker, fireman of engine No. 20, while out practicing on horseback yesterday, fell from his horse and fractured the back part of his skull. He was picked up in an unconscious condition and removed to his residence, corner Twelfth street and St. Louis avenue. Dr. Wm. C. Green was called in attendance, but was unable to say how bad Slicker was injured.

Yesterday afternoon John Downey, 12 years old, residing at No. 1307 North Nineteenth street, in company with three other boys went down to the river at the foot of North Market street and went in bathing. Downey got in deep water and was carried into the strong current and drowned. Downey's companions becoming alarmed ran off and did not report the matter. The unfortunate boy's clothing was found on the river bank by a police officer and this morning was identified.

SPORTING SUMMARY.

News From Race-Tracks, Base Ball Fields, Etc.—Cincinnati Meeting.

The Directors of the American Association met yesterday at the Gibson House, Cincinnati, and were in session all day considering the dispute between the Eclipse of Louisville and the St. Louis Browns. The Louisvilles had everything their own way. The meeting decided unanimously that the game in which the Eclipse walked off the field, and the two others, when they failed to appear, should be declared off, and should be played over again. This is in direct contradiction to the rules. Two of the games will be played here and one in Louisville. It would have been just as well to have ordered all the games played at Louisville, as nobody will go out in this town to see the Eclipse play and kick again, and the Browns management will simply lose the $65 they pay the visitors on every game. Mr. H. D. McKnight, President of the American Association of Base Ball Clubs, and also of the Allegheny Club, of Pittsburg, arrived this morning by the O. and M., together with Messrs. Von der Ahe and Cuthbert, the St. Louis representatives at yesterday's meeting at Cincinnati. The session lasted all day, and much important work was done, it being decided to employ three umpires to attend to the association games, and put them on regular salary. The names of the men appointed have not as yet been divulged, but will be made public as soon as their acceptances are received. Mr. Von der Ahe said: "The session opened hot and lively, and Mr. Park, of Louisville, and myself had taken very decided grounds as to our action. After a great deal of discussion, however, it was decided to bury the hatchet for the general good and welfare of the association. The Louisvilles will have to make the restitution to us of playing the two games here on Wednesday and Thursday; and the St. Louis Browns will go down there on Thursday night, playing three games, respectively, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, the balance of the schedule to be filled out later in the season. This was the best arrangement after all, and the Louisvilles, seeing the result of their hasty action, were willing to make the concession. Everything is lovely now and the best feelings prevail on every side.

The Browns beat the Remy Clarkes, of New Orleans, yesterday. The game was loose and tiresome, the score being 22 to 5.

The Standards, with the help of Umpire Blong, defeated the Nationals of East St. Louis, yesterday, by a score of 11 to 6.

The Cincinnatti club defeated the Eclipse at Louisville, yesterday. Score, 2 to 1.

At Cincinnati, on Saturday, the home club made six runs and whitewashed the Baltimores.

At Chicago, Saturday, Chicago 6, Boston 5.
At Buffalo, Providence 4, Buffalo 3.
At Cleveland, Cleveland 5, Worcester 3.
At Pittsburg, Athletics 8, Alleghenies 6.
At Detroit, Troys 11, Detroits 5.

At Chicago, Saturday, Stanton won the Chicago Stakes for three-year-olds, 1¼ miles, Bengal second and Mistral third. Time, 2:57. The second race, 1¼ mile heats, was won by Duchess of Norfolk easily in two straight heats. Time, 2:12¼, 2:16¼. For the Garden City Cup the entries were Checkmate, John Davis, Clara D. and Blazes. Distance, 2¼ miles. John Davis won easily in 4:30¼, Checkmate, the favorite, second.

Judge Burnet won the hurdle in 5:26; Bailey second. John Sullivan won the selling race, 1¼ miles, in 2:57; Sam Ecker second; Jack Haverly third. The three-quarters of a mile, all ages, was taken by Good Night; Saunterer second; Intrinsic third. Time, 1:22.

At Monmouth Park, N. J., Jim Farrell won the mile race; George Kenny won the five-eighths of a mile; Barrett won the Ocean Stakes, 1¼ miles; Runnymede second. The Long Branch handicap was won by Moniton; Glidelia second. The selling race was taken by Itaska, and the steeple by Bertha.

At the Saturday meeting of the Mattoon, Ill., Horse Association, Maud W. took first money in the 3:30 class. In the 2:30 class, trotting or pacing, Kismet captured the stakes.

NOTES.

The Remy Clark's will remain in St. Louis for several days and will probably play the Standards or Reds before they depart.

John Davis, late of the Browns and Reds, has returned from Colorado and is waiting to make connection with some first-class nine.

The St. Louis Reds left for Springfied, Ill., this morning and will play the club at that place this afternoon and to-morrow. Manager Christ. Oberbeck has the men in charge.

Billy Welch and Dave Phelan fought forty-three rounds in "The Plains," a suburb of Manchester, N. H., on Saturday. Phelan won on a foul, after both men were badly punished.

To-morrow afternoon the Allegheny Club, of Pittsburg, come here to play the St. Louis Browns. The nines will be in their strongest form, McGinnis and Sullivan forming the Browns' battery and Salisbury and Keenan that of the visitors. The St. Louis nine have had more real hard work with their team than any they have met with thus far, and their games have been of the finest ever played in St. Louis. In order to facilitate matters, in addition to the regular ticket offices, admission tickets can be purchased to-morrow at St. Louis and Grand avenues. Game will begin at 3:30 promptly.

Go to Rocky Mountains and Keep Cool.

Round-trip tickets to Denver, Pueblo or Colorado Springs and return only $52. Good until October 31. Now on sale by the Missouri Pacific Railway. Fast train is now run via this line. Only thirty-two hours St. Louis to Denver. Call at ticket offices, 116 North Fourth street and Union Depot. F. CHANDLER,

"NOT TOO-TOO,"

But a Club of Good-Fellowship is the West End.

It appears that the West End Club is not to blame in the matter of settling the bill for the services of the orchestra on the evening of June 6, at their club-house. The account had never really been delivered. Mr. George McManus had received the bill from Mr. Maddern, but had failed to send it to the officers of the club. This led to the misunderstanding and caused Mr. Maddern to write his sharp epistle. Mr. Hull, who is chairman of the Executive Committee of the club, was free from all responsibility in the matter, and the trouble seems to have originated in a jocular remark which he made to a friend over a glass of beer at the Pickwick. Mr. Hull is a gentleman of genial courtesy and had no intention of wounding the susceptibilities of Mr. Maddern. The officers of the club regret that a wrong construction should have been placed upon the matter, and they disclaim all ultra exclusiveness. The West End Club has a good leavening of the better Bohemianism in its composition, and has no aspirations to be regarded as the "too-too" ultra.

GRAND PIC-NIC.

Knights of Pythias via Cairo Short Line to Belleville Fair Grounds, July 4.

UHRIG'S CAVE.

The production of "Patience" at the Cave last night drew a large audience, who seemed naturally attracted to the outdoor performance by the singular beauty of the night. Ford's Opera Company appeared to its fullest strength, with Miss Blanche Chapman as Patience. The opera has undoubtedly been "done to death" in St. Louis, but its inherent beauties continue to impress the patrons of music. Miss Chapman makes a charming Patience, and was greeted with enthusiasm. Mr. Denham, Mr. Fitzgerald, Mr. Lang, Miss May Stembler, Mis Genevieve Reynolds and the entire cast filled the several roles to perfection. The opera will have a generous patronage during the week at the Cave, for it is undoubtedly the best performance of "Patience" ever given in this city. Special commendation should be bestowed upon the work of the chorus. No chorus has ever done such effective work: their stage business was really superb and they had been drilled to perfection. The costumes were the finest and most artistic we have ever seen worn by any troupe in this opera. Every aria was encored last night and "Patience" made a big hit.

PICKWICK THEATER.

By special request the Hess Acme Opera Company will give two special performances of "Fra Diavolo," to-night and to-morrow night, postponing "The Bohemian Girl" until Wednesday evening. Free matinees will be given to-morrow at 1 and 3 o'clock for the poor children of the city. Tickets free on application. "The Widow" is in preparation.

CITY NEWS.

The boy drowned at the foot of Olive street on Saturday evening was identified yesterday by his mother, Mrs. Downey, 1326 North Nineteenth street.

The Rev. Drs. McAnally and Tudor officiated yesterday at the funeral of Thomas G. Hogan, There was a large gathering of sorrowing relatives and friends.

Police Commissioner Kinkead does not think that he will resign after all. He will see how the new board works and believes that he can get along very well with them.

George Myers, a lad of 17, living on Chouteau avenue near Schnaider's, was drowned yesterday at St. Paul in the Meramec. He took a skiff, which upset in the middle of the stream.

George Bottoms, a colored man, had an encounter yesterday morning with some white hoodlums near the bridge approach. The darkey was dangerously cut, and was sent to the City Hospital.

Bishop Ryan officiated yesterday at the blessing of the bell presented to the Church of the Visitation, Easton and Taylor avenues, by Samuel Cupples. Father O'Reilly delivered the special address.

John Galbraith, an old man of 63 years, was found dead in his bed yesterday at the residence of his son-in-law, Mr. Stevens, Jackson and Marceau streets. There was a verdict of pulmonary apoplexy.

U. S. Cavalryman Michael J. Kelly was arrested by the police in Carondelet for cruel treatment of a horse. The poor animal was discovered in a very shocking condition with whip-cuts and bruises.

Ella Haywayer, a young domestic in the employ of Ferd Timmermann, 1012 Dillon street, fell yesterday from the second story to the yard below, receiving injuries resulting in death half an hour later.

Nathan Davidson, a young Russian boarding at 1350 South Second street, was terribly beaten by Herman Budde, a drunken German laborer who stumbled over him on the sidewalk last evening. Davidson's injuries were such that he had to be removed to the Hospital.

The Rev. Dr. Felton at Union M. E. Church last evening discussed the general character and reputation of St. Louis: the difficulty of governing its peculiar elements; the open violation of the Sabbath laws, etc. The recent exercise of executive clemency was condemned as a mistake, nullifying the law.

Bishop Gilmour, of Cleveland, was warmly criticised yesterday for his Ladies' Land League pronunciamento by President Joseph Kelly of the St. Lawrence Land League. He quoted the Registrar-General's reports of illegitimacy in Great Britain to show that Ireland furnished not one-half of one per cent of the births, while Scotland furnished 15, England 14 and Wales 14 in every thousand, and yet Bishop Gilmour talked of morality.

Pond's Extract.

We speak whereof we know when we say that Pond's Extract Company, of 14 West Fourteenth street, New York, do not put before the public anything but what is of genuine value. Let us illustrate: Our little girl, aged four, had an abcess gather under her right arm. She suffered intense pain. Being nervous, she could not bear a poultice, and we were at a loss to know what to apply. Having a bottle of Pond's Extract Ointment we immediately applied it, and it produced a comforting effect, and being always moist and gentle in its action the result was satisfactory. It brought joy to our hearts, for the little one was relieved by the breaking of the abscess three days after appliance. We do therefore recommend it, as the dear little patient would if she could well express herself. This ointment was bought for the use of pile troubles, and, as it was eminently successful in that use, we had courage and faith to use it for the abscess. We have tried all their articles, and in every instance we have found them everything that is claimed for them. More than this, we are agreeably surprised to find that Pond's Extract accomplishes more than is advertised. In inflammation, headaches and bruises, things common in every hosehold, the Extract works immense. Let us add, by way of voluntary indorsement of Pond's Extract, that we recommend it from absolute trial, and, to repeat our caption, "we speak whereof we know."—[Ed. Boston Times.

MR. ARTHUR FISHER says: "I caught a very bad cold, which settled into a severe case of rheumatism. I did not know what to do for it, so I resolved to purchase St. Jacobs Oil for trial. Happy thought. I began applying the Oil, and in two weeks was as well as ever.—[Toronto (Canada) Globe.

A Wonderful Coat.

From the New York Herald.

A Custom-house officer made a curious capture yesterday. A passenger on the steamship City of Puebla, from Havana, had given rise to some suspicion by his singular appearance, which was not unlike that of a person afflicted with the dropsy, except that the trunk of his body was the only part that seemed to be bloated. When he went on shore he was followed, and as he was leaving the pier where the vessel was moored he was arrested. It was found that the coat which he wore was quilted on the inside in such a manner as to form a large number of little pockets, every one of which was full of cigars. These numbered 500, and were of very fine quality. The name of the stranger is H. Leon. The coat was taken from his back, and is now in the seizure room at the Custom-house.

Hints of Fall Styles.

From the Boston Herald.

In the way of trimmings it is said that the reign of embroidery has only just begun, and that it will be used next winter in greater profusion than at present for trimming woolen dresses. Polka dots will be enlarged to great balls that resemble embroidery, though they are wrought by machinery. These balls are shaded with a deep hue like a shadow in the lower part of the round figure, and, though most often of a darker tint than the surface of the dress, are also in different shades, contrasting with the dark color of the ground. The "plumetis," or feathery chenille embroidery, introduced this summer in nuns' veiling, will also be repeated in camel's hair and in other woolen fabrics that are not twilled.

For silks, gros-grains and heavy taffetas are suggested instead of the satin lustrous goods that have been worn during the past three years. The latter, however, will by no means go out of fashion. Taffeta silks are the favorite of the summer season with Parisiennes and will probably be in vogue here for the autumn and winter. The checked taffeta is preferred by French modistes to the twilled Louisines that are so much used here. They are imported in "gingham checks" that combine olive, dark red, blue, etc. The chine taffeta is also a favorite choice at present in Paris, but has not found as much favor here as the softer chine surahs that are shown in dark maroon, green or blue grounds strewn with creamy tea roses, or with pale blue or salmon pink grounds nearly covered with a pattern of rosebuds on a blue ground, or of forget-me-nots or green leaves on a salmon background. About brocades opinions differ. They are condemned in advance by some merchants, while others, especially those who cater to gay tastes, have ordered them at the Lyons factories, for their customers who like showy things are sure to object to plain colors.

Beecher's Foreman.

New York Special to Chicago Tribune.

For twenty years Thomas J. Turner was the foreman of the Rev. Henry Ward Beecher's farm at Peekskill. Turner died in January, 1881, and left an estate valued at over $5,000. He made a will, and he bequeathed his property to his friends, his church, etc., but when search was made for the document it could not be found, and the original draft made by the Surrogate was then admitted to probate. Not alone the will, but a large quantity of valuable papers were missing, such as mortgages, deeds, etc. This has balked the executors in making an inventory of property, and they consequently placed the matter before the Surrogate for a formal investigation. Among the witnesses examined to-day were Henry Ward Beecher and his wife. Mr. Beecher refused to put his hand on the Bible and swear, but would affirm. Swearing on the Bible might do for superstitious Irishmen, but he said he would affirm. When the investigation was proceeded with it was endeavored to show that Beecher was indebted to the deceased, Turner, but Mr. Beecher said he did not think he was. He recollected having given Turner a note once or twice, but really he couldn't remember the date or the amount. The reverend gentleman couldn't even tell whether he paid interest on the note, but thought he did. Mr. William Beecher then produced the note given by Mr. Beecher to Turner in 1877 for $1,000, and a check that paid it. Mrs. Beecher was with Turner when he died, and took charge of his papers at that time. She says she did not molest any of them. Mr. Beecher, it was shown further to-day, had borrowed large sums of Turner at other times, but he couldn't remember anything as to the transactions. The only thing that he could recall was that he had been indebted to Turner about $4,000, but, as he expressed it, he was "perpendicular" on that point. There are persons who intimate that Mr. Beecher's indebtedness to Turner was considerable at the time of the latter's death, and that it was hoped the failure to find the papers might permit the account to remain unopened.

The Good Husband.

From the Wall Street News.

Some weeks since the wife of a Philadelphia broker asked her husband to give her a thousand dollars on which to speculate, and like the good man he is he complied. In a day or two opportunity offered to buy some county railroad bonds at very low figures, and she invested. When he came home that night she remarked:

"George, it seems as if I remember of your having some Blank county railroad bonds."

"Yes, I did."

"Just a thousand dollars worth, wasn't it?"

"Exactly."

"And you sold them?"

"Yes; to-day."

"What are they worth?"

"About ten per cent."

"What!" she shrieked. "Why, I bought those very bonds and paid 95 for them!"

"Just so, darling, just so! You wanted to speculate; I knew you would get bitten. I therefore arranged it to cover the most of that thousand back into my wallet."

"But, sir —!"

"Be calm, Maria, be calm. If you lose your temper that way you'll never have any luck buying on an excited market. You ought to be proud of a husband who can take in seven or eight hundred dollars on a little speculation like that."

Miss Cary Married.

From a Portland (Me.) Special Telegram.

"A wedding was solemnized here to-day in which the whole country may be said to be interested, it being that of Annie Louise Cary, the celebrated contralto, with Mr. M. Raymond, a retired broker of New York City. The marriage took place early this morning at the residence of Mrs. J. C. Merrill, the bride's sister, the Rev. W. H. Haskell, Annie's brother-in-law, officiating. There were no presents displayed, and the only witnesses of the ceremonies were Mr. Haskell's wife and Mr. and Mrs. Merrill. This afternoon Mrs. Raymond and Miss Merrill, a daughter of her sister, rode out to the Atlantic House and enjoyed a quiet time. The newly married couple will go to New York and remain a few days, returning July 8, and will then proceed to the White Mountains, where they will spend the season. Late to-night they were serenaded by Grimmer's orchestra. When the fact became known to-night that the wedding had actually occurred it could hardly be believed, it had been kept so secret. Everybody appeared to know that it was going to take place, but no one could exactly tell when it was to occur. It was first intended for them to go out to Mr. Haskell's house in Falmouth and have the ceremony performed there, but it was afterward decided to have Mr. Haskell come in here."

Turning Tramps on a Wager.

From the Reading (Penn.) Eagle.

Two well-known young men of this city, of a roving disposition, and who have frequently traveled many miles away from home without any money, are to leave Reading in a day or two on a trip to Milwaukee, Wis. They are to travel without any money excepting $1 each, and the one who reaches Milwaukee first is to receive a purse of $100 and a free ticket to come back. Arrangements have been made for both to appear before a Magistrate out there and make affidavit as to the exact time of arrival, which will be telegraphed to their backers in Reading. Several quite prominent citizens are said to be interested in the matter. The young men who are to "beat" their way out are George Strause and William Rehr. They will be allowed to travel on the same train to Harrisburg, where they will be required to take different trains for the West. A person will be at Harrisburg to see that they do not board the same train.

An American Chess Player.

From the New York World.

The Vienna chess tournament led to the discovery of a fine American chess-player. James Mason, who won the third prize fifteen years ago was a newsboy selling newspapers at Fulton Ferry. He was instructed in chess-playing by the proprietor of a resort for chess-players, and made such rapid progress that he was soon able to conquer his instructor. Games followed with the best chess-players that came into the resort. These also Mason, after some practice, defeated. Within two years from the time he learned the game none but the best players would engage in a game with him; and before he was twenty years old he was considered one of the city's finest chess-players.

Commercial Chips.

The St. Louis Exchanges were the only boards of trade open to business in markets of any magnitude in this country to-day. The closing down of these markets had the effect of almost knocking speculative trading in the head, as there were no reports to guide the independent speculative free lance (?) of St. Louis, and consequently they fought rather shy of doing much.—When New York broke down last Friday to $1 38 and Mr. J. B. Oliver was informed of it, he then stated that the decline was only the natural let-down of a market after a "corner" was settled; that the June option in New York expired at 12:30 p. m., and that the decline noted was in cash, not June. Yet New York commercial papers say that the June option opened at $1 50, but at once fell to $1 35¼, while cash went down to $1 34. Deliveries on June contracts were 75 to 100 boat loads, and much more than was expected by the longs, and the consequence was the latter became demoralized and June broke never to rise again. This rather disposes of Mr. Oliver's romance.—Ed. Mann had a terrific hand-to-hand encounter with the stairs leading to his room last Saturday evening and to-day was personating Capt. Merrimac with a cane and limp. "Oh, I'm a sad sea dog!"—The following names have been sent in to President Slayback, from which to choose a committee of arbitration of the June "corner:" Ben. Barnes, Dave Francis, Theo. G. Bowman, D. P. Grier, John W. Kauffman and A. E. Babcock. No prejudice in that crowd.—The largest single short in June wheat is Ben Barnes', who owed 360,000 bushels to the "long" when the month went out. It is said that Barnes has $70,000 in margins upon this deal.—Joe Bryant is an old war-horse and many times has been under fire, so that when a giant fire cracker was exploded under his chair at the call board, making a terrific noise and frightening people standing around half out of their wits, the old veteran didn't even bat his eyes and never moved a muscle.—W. R. Buckley, of Peoria, was on the floor to-day on a visit to his brother Charley, of Buckley & Co.—There was no afternoon call of the Exchange to-day, the operators voting to adjourn after 1 p. m. and the Board of Directors assenting thereat.—Over 18,700 sacks new wheat were reported by the Exchange as received to-day, of which 16,761 came in by lower river boats, but other boats arriving late and not reported to the Exchange brought the total receipts to above 30,000 sacks.—A letter from Hovey & Peck, Lincoln, Neb., to Hubbard & Bartlett, says: "The prospect for good crops of all kinds has never been better in the history of the State. While the acreage of wheat is not much above the average, the yield will be fully half above the average, and, we think, of good quality. The largest crop of oats and corn is also now an assured fact, and better corn weather we could not have than the present."—Sid Francis was also blown up by a giant fire-cracker while he was at the call to-day, and when he came back from an inspection of the ceiling and had recovered his senses and his clothes, he remarked: "Now I know how Guiteau felt when he fell through the trap."

The Markets.

FORENOON SESSION.

Flour quotably unchanged in price, and still very dull. The only demand came for old flours, which were scarce; new weak, but supply hardly large enough to affect prices.

Wheat—Cash No. 2 red lower, but selling readily to speculators and miller; No. 3 red higher under a shipping demand mainly, and Mediterranean better also. Futures very dull and trading insignificant, owing to an absence of telegraphic advices. The feeling was unsettled, but changes in value were slight, the close showing July 1-16c higher and year ⅛c better, while August was 1-16 and September ⅛c lower than Saturday's close.

Corn—Higher. Cash grades in moderate supply, and mainly of No. 2, which was taken by speculators chiefly; order and milling demand light. Futures strong and advancing under a steady inquiry, closing stiff at advance over Saturday of ⅛c for July and year, ⅜c for August, ⅞c for September and October and 1c for November.

Oats higher for cash, with a good order and feeding demand and scant offerings, but futures declined and were dull and weak, closing ⅛c lower for July and August and ⅛c off for the year.

Rye firm, and would sell readily at firm prices were any on sale.

Hay on East side dull and weak, as the supply was excessive, but on this side the market was steady.

Millfeed lower and quiet.

Provisions stronger and better for bacon, for which there was an active demand, but dry salt meats unchanged in value and quiet. Lard scarce and firm. Pork slightly higher.

Highwines steady, with sales of 205 brls at $1 15.

Lead strong, with sales of 5 cars refined at $4 65 and in demand at that; hard selling in a small way—car lots—at $4 60 and not to be had at under that. Spelter flat at about $5.

CATTLE—Offerings were very large, there being nearly 200 car loads in the pens at the opening of the market, and which consisted almost altogether of grass Texans and Indians. Buyers moved around with a good deal of freedom and made purchases at declines of 10@15c per 100 ℔s. The quality was quite good. Local speculators and Cleveland, Pittsburg and Detroit shippers were the leading operators, they paying from $3 50@5 25 per 100 ℔s. Eastern shippers did not show much life. Reports from New York denoted a better feeling on good native steers and slow and prices easier on grass Texans. Chicago had also a fair run. There were no native steers offered, and this particular grade may be called steady. Grass natives and butcher stock dull. Stock and feeding steers slow. Ruling quotations quiet.

RIVER NEWS.

THE Diamond Joe Line announced the Josie to leave for St. Paul Thursday, 6th.

THE Fannie Lewis, Capt. E. W. Gould, Jr., leaves for Kansas City Wednesday, 5th.

THE steamer Ste. Genevieve, Capt. Carvell, will be off for Memphis at 5 p. m. to-day.

THE Gem City came in from Keokuk and leaves again at 4 p. m. Burke commands.

THE Spread Eagle will be in the excursion business to-morrow. See her card elsewhere.

THE Gem City makes an excursion trip to Keokuk and return, leaving here at 4 p. m. to-day.

THE rapid current in the Missouri is rendering navigation on the stream extremely hazardous and difficult.

THE elegant W. P. Halliday is receiving to leave for New Orleans Wednesday. Beck Jolly is captain, Owen G. Oates clerk.

THE beautiful new Anchor Line steamer Belle of Memphis arrived from Vicksburg. She leaves again to-morrow evening. McKee master.

THE famous War Eagle, Capt. Jerry Wood, takes her departure at 4 p. m. to-morrow for St. Paul. Here is a last chance to make a pleasant trip to Minnesota.

THE Colorado offers superior inducements to pleasure seekers to-morrow. Her programme will be found among the steamboat advertisements. Carson will command.

THE iron steamer Charles P. Chouteau will be prepared to accommodate a large number of excursionists. Her hours of departure are announced in the local columns.

THE fine passenger steamer Bright Light, Captain Wm. Thompson, Ross Powell clerk, leaves for Kansas City Wednesday, July 5. The Bright Light is owned by Capt. David H. Silver.

THE river is rising rapidly and the Government gauge, which marks the water from zero to 32 feet, is covered to the depth of several inches. The railroad track is still dry, but will be flooded by to-night. The rise is from the Missouri and is doing some damage to the crops of the bottom lands. As the Ohio is not high the water will not affect anything below Cairo. There will be nothing doing on the landing until after the 4th.

SHERIFF'S SALE.—By virtue and authority of a special execution issued from the office of the Clerk of the Circuit Court at the City of St. Louis, returnable to the October term, 1882, of said court, and to me directed, wherein the State of Missouri, at the relation and to the use of Nathaniel C. Hudson, Collector of the City of St. Louis, in the State of Missouri, is plaintiff, and Charles E. Bradley and Merrifield W. Huff are defendants.

I have levied upon and seized the following described real estate, situated in the City of St. Louis and State of Missouri, and charged with the lien of tax bill on which this action is founded, and described in said execution as follows, to-wit:

A certain lot in block 1 of Labadie's addition, in city block numbered 850 of said city, having a front of 39 feet 11 inches on the one part and 17 feet 1 inch on the other, by a depth of 203 feet, bounded north by Booth, east by an alley, south by Burnes, and west by Seventh street.

And I will, on WEDNESDAY, THE 26TH DAY OF JULY, 1882, between the hours of 9 o'clock in the forenoon and 5 o'clock in the afternoon of that day, at the east front door of the Court-house in the city of St. Louis, State of Missouri, sell, at public auction, for cash, to the highest bidder, the above described property, or so much thereof as will satisfy said execution and costs.

ISAAC M. MASON,
Sheriff City St. Louis, Mo.

St. Louis, Mo., June 27, 1882. 99L

LEGAL.

SHERIFF'S SALE.—By virtue and authority of a special execution issued from the office of the Clerk of the Circuit Court at the City of St. Louis, returnable to the October term, 1882, of said court, and to me directed, wherein the State of Missouri, at the relation and to the use of Nathaniel C. Hudson, Collector of the City of St. Louis, in the State of Missouri, is plaintiff, and George A. Krebs and Eliza A. Krebs are defendants.

I have levied upon and seized the following described real estate, situated in the city of St. Louis and State of Missouri, and charged with the lien of tax bill on which this action is founded, and described in said execution as follows, to-wit:

No. 1. Four lots of ground on Kosciusko street, in city block 746, each 30 feet in front or width, and 145 feet in length or depth, being lots 16, 17, 18 and 19 in block 5 in Blow and La Beaume's addition to said city.

No. 2. A lot of ground on Kosciusko street, in city block 746, in front or width 42 feet 3 inches in the one part, and 35 feet in the other part and 145 feet in length or depth, being lot 20 in block 5, in Blow & La Beaume's addition to said city.

And I will, on WEDNESDAY, THE 26TH DAY OF JULY, 1882, between the hours of nine o'clock in the forenoon and five o'clock in the afternoon of that day, at the east front door of the Court-house, in the city of St. Louis, State of Missouri, sell, at public auction, for cash, to the highest bidder, the above described property, or so much thereof as will satisfy said execution and costs.

Nobody in St. Louis is better known than Mr. Spalding, but it was believed he had become an incorrigible bachelor. Numerous fair denizens of the city smiled on him in vain, and the announcement of his forthcoming marriage will be received with surprise. The fortune of Mr. Spalding is variously estimated to be worth from $1,000,000 to $4,000,000, and it is alleged that his fiancee is equally wealthy. His friends will give him a reception on his return.

A BROKEN DIKE

Lets the River Pour Into Madison County, Illinois.

Negligence on the Part of the Levee-Builders Submerges 20,000 Acres.

The Flood in the St. Louis Lumber Region—East St. Louis—Along the Water Front.

"The Madison levee has broken again," was the rumor that ran along the water front this morning at ten o'clock, its origin being the steamer Spread Eagle, which had just pulled in at the foot of Carr street direct from Alton. A POST-DISPATCH reporter hurried on board as the excursionists were still disembarking. "Yes," he was told on every hand, "yes, it has certainly given way. We saw the water pouring in on the corn-fields and stretching for miles inland. The pilot of the Spread Eagle, Mr. Frank King was found just as he was coming out of the pilot-house.

"Tell me about the broken levee," demanded the reporter.

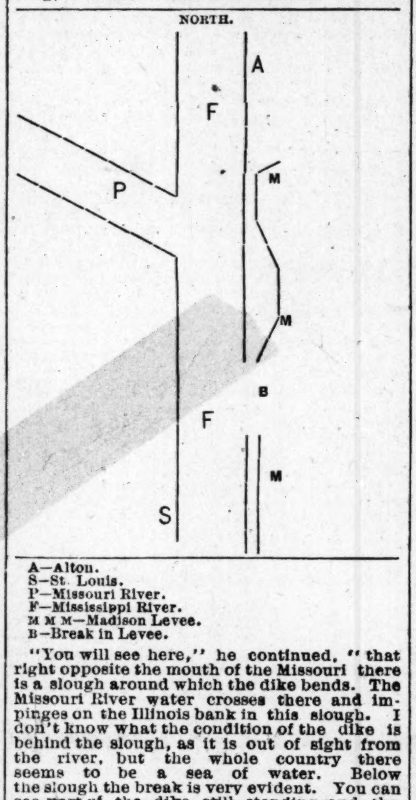
"The Madison levee has certainly given way," he replied. "That fact was apparent to every one on the boat."

"Where?"

"Just below the mouth of the Missouri. The break seems to extend almost to the head of Jabouret Slough."

How far below Alton is it?"

"I should say about eight or nine miles, and the break itself seems to be about three miles long, with occasional intermissions."



A—Alton.
S—St. Louis.
P—Missouri River.
F—Mississippi River.
M M M—Madison Levee.
B—Break in Levee.

"You will see here," he continued, "that right opposite the mouth of the Missouri there is a slough around which the dike bends. The Missouri River water crosses there and impinges on the Illinois bank in this slough. I don't know what the condition of the dike is behind the slough, as it is out of sight from the river, but the whole country there seems to be a sea of water. Below the slough the break is very evident. You can see part of the dike still standing and the river water rushing through. As far as I could see back into the country fully six miles from the pilot-house everything was under water. Corn which I had noticed on the up trip being as high as you or me was standing four feet deep in water; the wheat, which was largely shocked and stacked, was floating away on the flood in every direction. I should say that the whole grain crop of that part of Madison county was totally destroyed. There must be 20,000 acres of farms inundated in sight of the river."

"When did the break begin?"

"It must have come yesterday. I am told that the whole trouble was caused by the fact that a farmer near the head of Jabouret had some sixty acres of wheat right on the river bank. When the people were building the levee this spring, after last year's weakening, they stopped when they came to his wheat field and determined to wait until he got his grain harvested before carrying the dike across the land. The dike was accordingly not built and it was here that the river first broke through. It went roaring back up along the inside of the embankment for three miles, washing it out in places as it went, and then the whole body of water headed eastwardly toward Long Lake and the low, rich ground back of Venice."

"But there is another system of dikes behind Venice and throughout that country?"

"I do not know much about the system in there. I know they will have to be very strong dikes to hold up against the body of water that is going in below the mouth of the Missouri."

"How are the rivers above?"

"Bank-full. The Mississippi has spread over all the bottom lying between Portage and the mouth of the Missouri, on the Missouri side, and the Missouri River has filled the bottoms above St. Charles. The whole country is under water up there. I was talking to a pilot this morning in Alton, just in off the Illinois, and he had told me that that river was booming and more than bank-full all the way up. There is water coming into the Missouri out of the Osage and Gasconade and Grand rivers. It has been raining solid sheets in all the upper river country and we are getting the benefit of it now."

"How big a rise do you look for here?"

"Another foot or two."

"And that will bring us way past the danger line?"

"Yes, we are past the danger line."

The reporter met Mr. Henry Selig, of Madison, after some searching and asked him what he knew of the broken dike. "Very little," he replied, "further than that I heard this morning at Madison that it had given way at the head of Jabouret. As I understand it, it did not break, but the water came through an unrepaired break of last year. Of course, it amounts to the same thing in the long run. If the water rises much higher, of course, the damage will be tremendous."

"How much country is inundated?"

"Thirty or 40,000 acres. But that does not state the case fairly. Probably twenty-five thousand acres of the overflowed region is low, marshy swamps, upon which none have attempted to raise crops for some years past. I think that the damage done will not be heavy. The water that pours in passes into Long Lake and passes on down between very strong dikes, and unless the water rises at least two or three feet more the damage will be small; small at least compared with the last flood."

Capt. John A. Scudder, of the Anchor Line, was seen and stated that he did not believe it was possible for the river to rise more than a foot at St. Louis. Capt. Keiser and a number of other steamboat experts corroborated this view with many arguments. At 10 o'clock to-day the city gauge, which marks thirty-two feet above low water mark, was covered, and it is now several inches below the surface. The records of the Anchor Line office reaching back to 1844 show but two July floods which were higher than this present one. Telegraphic advices from Missouri river points show that at its highest point the river is stationary and at Boonville and other place it is falling. All things considered, it is hardly possible that the two feet more of water needed to deluge Madison county will come.

AT KASKASKIA.

Reports from Kaskaskia say that the water has broken in upon the fertile country around that village, and that several thousand acres of growing corn are submerged. It was the back water which did the damage, and it was all done in the undiked bottoms. The balance of the farms in that vicinity are well protected, and further trouble is not anticipated unless the water goes much above its present stage.

THE ST. LOUIS FLOOD.

Within the memory of the most ancient mariner who ploughs the river never has there been such a rapid succession of damaging floods as the last half-dozen years have witnessed. Again and again the yellow tides, sweeping down from the North and West, have broken the flimsy levees which the farmers in our bottom lands have built along the banks, and torn up thousands upon thousands of dollars' worth of growing grain. The river is to-day thirty feet above low-water mark at St. Louis. The wharf presents all the troubled scenery of the spring floods. The yellow waves are lapping along, creeping nearer and nearer every hour to the houses, which usually stand over one hundred feet away from the river's edge. At Locust street the railway tracks along the levee are submerged. At the bridge the water is within a few feet of the sidewalk. At Morgan street the sidewalk is covered. Above at Carr and north of that thoroughfare up to O'Fallon street and the Wabash yards the river bends out and does not turn in again until it reaches the country about the foot of Harrison street. The part of the levee south of the bridge, along which goods and freight are usually strewn, is a waste of yellow water, and the few piles of lumber still standing are being carted out of harm's way as rapidly as possible. On the east side of the river the Cahokia Creek swollen beyond bounds by the backwater from below, has overflowed at three points. As usual, the southern part of East St. Louis catches it worse, the main part of the town being so cut and crossed by a system of railroad embankments that it is thoroughly fortified against water. Above East St. Louis the farms and lowlands of the Canteen country and the land lying back of Venice, all of Madison county lying between the bluffs and the river, in a word, is at the mercy of the floods. In this fertile bottom there are thousands of farms teeming with grain which a few feet more water will wipe out thoroughly. Coming on the heels of the losses sustained in the last three years, broken levees in Madison county mean more ruin and desolation than the average citizen of St. Louis would credit. All depends on the levee system, and, as shown above, one of the most important reaches of the Madison levee has given away before the hammering of old Missouri.

NORTH ST. LOUIS.

The North St. Louis flats are covered with water two and a half to five feet deep, and presents a strange scene as it is tossed and rolled by the force of the water from the river proper. The Eau Claire Lumber Company's yards are under three feet of water, but up to this time no loss has been sustained. The railways in the yard are all afloat, and the numerous small piles are floating on the bosom of the water. The yards present a gloomy appearance, and two feet additional rise will put millions of feet of splendid lumber afloat on the river's current, and the loss will be large. The company to-day has put a force of men at work to boom the lumber yards in, and the St. Louis Saw Mill Company has taken the same precaution. The rise from six o'clock last night to ten o'clock this morning was over nine inches, which is almost an unprecedented rise on such a body of water as there now is. The water is now rapidly encroaching on Kennett street, between Buchanan and Destrehan streets, in which case the entire district west of Kennett street to the Wabash, St. Louis and Pacific Railroad, and between Buchanan and Destrehan streets, will fill up with water to the depth of four feet. The result will be the stoppage of the St. Louis Saw Mill and Niedringhaus Bros' extensive rolling-mills. A large force of men and wagons are at work to-day building an embankment along the road to keep the water out, but there is little to be hoped for in the matter.

The water has broken into the Schulenburg & Boeckeler Lumber Company's extensive yards, Second and Harrison streets, and 10,000,000 feet of lumber now stands in five feet of water, but there is no chance of any of it getting away at present. Mr. J. J. Buckley, the lumber contractor, with his usual enterprise in such cases, has already made arrangements to move the Turner Bros. Lumber Company's immense fleets of lumber from the river proper to Kennett street, and the work of this company will not be detained more than twelve hours. Out of all the monster rafts of lumber along the landings, Mr. Buckley is the only superintendent that has made a way to get lumber to land and safety.

EAST ST. LOUIS.

East St. Louis is considerably agitated over the high stage of the waters of Cahokia Creek and the numerous sloughs that surround the city. and several families have already been compelled to vacate their houses for safer quarters while numerous others are making active preparations to follow in their footsteps. Cahokia Creek has overflowed its banks in several places, flooding the lowlands, but thus far the actual damage is only trifling. The upper portion of the city is nearly all under water, that portion known as the "Patch" being completely inundated, the houses abandoned or the families remaining living in the second-story with three feet of water on the ground floor. The sugar mill near the head of the island suspended operations, the lower portion of the building being inundated. About a dozen houses north of the Relay Depot contain about five feet of water on the first floors, the families moving out last week. One old lady occupying a little shanty waited till yesterday to seek other quarters, and was compelled to leave by the rapidly rising waters without any of her household goods. This morning several railroad men built a raft and rescued everything not already carried away by the water. The lumber yards near the depot are becoming submerged, several piles of lumber being completely surrounded, but as the proprietors have taken precautions to prevent a loss of property, the damage will be but slight. Cahokia Creek, above the bridge trestle-work, overflowed its banks this morning, submerging half a dozen houses between the creek and Bowman's dike, the roofs of the sheds in the yards being barely visible above the water. The transfer stables south of the bridge contain about two feet of water and are at present unoccupied, the stock being removed yesterday. The Southeastern is rapidly encroaching on about twenty houses west of the Transfer stables, the residents of which are hard at work building temporary embankments against the sidewalks to stay the water's progress, but are meeting with poor success. This morning a portion of the embankment was washed away and several of the houses surrounded by a foot of water. A rise of another foot will drive these families to the second floor of their houses. The water in the sloughs lacks about three feet of reaching the top of the trestle work, and has as yet caused no damage to railroad property. A large gang of workmen are busily engaged the last few days strengthening the southeastern track near the transfer stables. The Willows, in the southern part of the city, are worse off than any portion of the city or suburbs, being inhabited by over a hundred families, all of which are living above from three to eight feet of water. All business in this section is transacted in skiffs or on rafts, every family possessing one or more of these useful articles.

The cellars throughout the whole town are inundated, many containing eight feet of water, while all, without exception, are rendered useless. The county road contains four feet of water from East St. Louis to Brooklyn, while the large fields outside the city are one large expanse of water. Brooklyn, the colored village north of East St. Louis, has been protected by a new road built a short time since, but this morning the road bed showed signs of weakening, and before morning the whole village is likely to be inundated, as the water at present is nearly three feet above the foundations of the houses.

THE DEADLY KNIFE.

A Kerry Patcher Plunges It Into George Rinkel's Side.

Officer Kincer Seriously Assaulted—Mills, of the Ladies' Brigade, to be Investigated for Cowardice.

There was an affray at Rinkel's Grove yesterday afternoon in which one of the participants was very badly and perhaps fatally injured and another painfully wounded. Rinkelville is a picnicking ground and road-house six miles out on the St. Charles rock road, and is usually a quiet and orderly place. Yesterday it was taken possession of by an Irish society which had engaged the place for the day. As is usual, a gang of roughs entered into the grove with the cheek and braggadocio with which the class is endowed, and proceeded to make it as disagreeable for the people as they could. In the afternoon, as their veins began to swell with courage generated by stale beer and cheap whisky, the Kerry Patch toughs began looking around them for a row. They numbered about a dozen or fifteen, and, after getting full, held high carnival in one part of the grove. Their insulting and insolent conduct to respectable people caused them to be complained of to the proprietor, George Rinkel. This gentleman went up to the toughs and in a gentlemanly way requested them to behave. They paid no attention to what he said, but continued to act in a boisterous manner. This angered Rinkel and he proceeded to thrash one of the number, a young hoodlum named Dick Barry, alias Barrett. The latter drew a knife, and, as the owner of the place made at him, plunged it into his side. Rinkel was overcome and fell fainting to the ground. A cry was raised that he was murdered, and the toughs proceeded to clear out.

THE ALARM

had been communicated to two policemen on special duty then—Kinceer and Wells—and they started after the fugitives. They readily overtook them and Kincer ran up to Barry, saying as he caught him by the arm, "I want you." Barry wrenched himself away from the officer, and then the whole mob proceeded to pummel him up. Officer Mills stood by apparently too much terrified to do anything. Finally with an effort he drew his pistol and ordered the crowd to draw back, at the same time flourishing his weapon in rather a dangerous fashion. The crowd paid no attention to his just command, but kept right on doing up his partner in the most approved style. Kincer was not killed, for, by a lucky accident, a man named John Lightner rushed up at this juncture, and, seeing that the officer was getting the worst of it, commenced firing into the crowd. The fusilade scattered them and they went their way to the city. Officer Mills kindly assisted his wounded partner to a place of safety and then hastily proceeded to paralyze the toughs, who by this time were far on their way to places of safety in the labyrinths of Kerry Patch. Doctors were called and Rinkel attended to. The wound was near his heart and would have entered it had it not been that the knife glanced against a rib, thus warding it off. This morning Rinkel, though weak from loss of blood, was in a fair way to recover. The police are on the track of Barry and expect to lodge him in jail during the day. A warrant for assault to kill has been sworn out against him, and he will be held under this when caught to await the result of Rinkel's injury.

BARRY

is one of the worst of the Kerry Patch toughs, and has often been in the Third District Station-house for various offenses. Not long ago he was in for stealing a horse and buggy. Inquiries were made by a reporter this morning as to the action of Officer Mills in not coming promptly to the assistance of his brother copper. He belongs to what is known as the "ladies' brigade," and beyond assisting ladies over the crossings at Fourth street and Washington avenue his moral and physical courage has never been thoroughly tested. According to his own story he did not come up in time to lend any assistance to Kincer, but on this fact there is a contradiction. Capt. Huebler said he did not know the officer well, and could say nothing about him. Any man should be bounced from the force who would not aid his fellow officer. Frank Watkins did not know him. He said the position in which the men had been described as standing would have justified Mills in shooting as many of the toughs as possible, and an officer was to blame for not coming to another's assistance in this very way. The case against Mills will be investigated to-day, and if he was to blame he will be suspended by the Board of Police Commissioners at their next meeting. Officer Kincer is reported as resting quietly this morning. His jaw has been properly set. He will not be able to do duty for some time to come. He is described by the principal police officers as being a nervy and brave little officer.

Mr. Clint. Dutcher Arrested in East. St. Louis.

The Latest Development in the Grain Inspection Imbroglio.

The East St. Louis Board of Trade assumed the aggressive, this morning, when their secretary, M. Millard, visited 'Squire Draggon's court and swore out a warrant for the arrest of Clinton O. Dutcher, grain inspector at the East St. Louis elevator. The charge was that on the 1st day af July Clinton O. Dutcher unlawfully inspected cars and lots of grain received by certain warehouses and elevators in East St. Louis without being legally appointed inspector. The warrant was placed in the hands of Constable Zimmermann, and when he arrived at the elevator Mr. Dutcher was just concluding his morning inspection. About a dozen other parties were present and when the constable read the warrant, all seemed surprised, but offered no resistance, Mr. Dutcher accompaning the constable to the Justices office. 'Squire Draggon proposed to release the inspector on his own recognizance, but Mr. Dutcher pretended to be desirous of going to Jail, and advised the Justice to commit him. Instructions were given to the Constable to oblige the inspector by locking him up, but Mr. Dutcher reconsidered the situation and agreed to furnish bond. He was released on his own recognizance, the case being set for this afternoon. The fine if imposed cannot be less than $50, or more than $100. Mr. Millard was seen and gives it as his opinion the difficulty will be amicably adjusted this week as the St. Louis board promises to revise the quo warranto papers Wednesday and submit them to the East St. Louis Board. Should an understanding not be reached the matter will be brought up before Judge Snyder in the Belleville Circuit Court Saturday.

ON 'CHANGE.

On 'Change absolutely no excitement was created by Mr. Dutcher's arrest by order of the East St. Louis Board of Trade. It had been apparently expected on all hands, and was simply viewed as a means of bringing the case into court and having the merits of the controversy judicially determined. A number of the members of the East St. Louis Produce Exchange were interviewed by a POST-DISPATCH reporter, who found the gentlemen a unit in the belief that the arrest of Mr. Dutcher was the best possible means of bringing the grain inspection differences where they could be definitely settled and determined. Mr. Dutcher himself came on 'Change after his release, and was the butt of a great many pleasantries about his escape from a dungeon cell. The directors of the East St. Louis Produce Exchange met at 1 o'clock, with President Greer in the chair, to consider the arrest and determine upon their future action.

A GRAVE CHARGE.

Serious Accusation Against Dr. Robert McWilliam.

The Story of the Death of Gussie Ellergood.

At half-past eight o'clock last evening Dr. Robert McWilliam was arrested on a charge of abortion at his office, No. 1112 Morgan street, by Detectives Hugh O'Neill and Stewart. On last Wednesday evening a woman named Gussie Ellergood was taken very sick at the place she was working—the residence of Dr. Edgar Park, No. 1818 Washington avenue. A city ambulance was summoned, and she was conveyed first to the Dispensary, thence to the City Hospital. The next day, as she grew much worse, she was transferred to the Female Hospital. She was treated for debility until she confessed to a nurse that she was suffering from the effects of an attempt to commit an abortion upon her. She was questioned as to the author of it and finally reluctantly answered that it was Dr. McWilliam, naming his address. The woman, after suffering in a terrible manner, died Saturday morning. After her death an investigation of her body was made by Dr. Schenck, the superintendent of the hospital, and he found that the woman had been butchered up in a most horrible manner. The Doctor notified the Coroner, and that official last night caused Dr. McWilliam to be arrested. Frank Watkins, Chief of Detectives, had also been notified and on the advice of the Coroner he sent two men to make the arrest. Dr. Park, for whom the woman worked, stated that she had been in his employ as a cook for the past four months; that she had said her home was at Carlyle, Ill. She had been visited by a man frequently during her employment, and it was upon his advice she had been sent to the hospital. For some time she had exhibited great nervousness and fear, and he had asked her the cause. She answered in an equivocal manner. When Detective O'Neil arrested McWilliam last night he seemed to be taken by surprise. His wife asked him what was the matter and he denied any knowledge of the case at all. This morning a POST-DISPATCH reporter had a talk with the Doctor in the hold-over at the Four Courts. He is a well-built man, about five feet seven inches in height, weighing about 160 pounds. He was neatly dressed in a black suit of clothes and had on a clean white vest. He wears a full black beard, his hair is cropped rather short and is parted in the middle. He is a Scotchman and gives his age at forty years. His address is that of an educated man, and when the reporter questioned him he answered in a straightforward manner. "I presume, Doctor, you know what you are held here for," said the reporter.

"When I was arrested last night," he replied, "one of the officers said something about it being on a charge of abortion, but, being innocent of any such crime, I did not know what I was arrested for."

"Were you not acquainted with the dead woman, Gussie Ellergood?"

"To the best of my knowledge I never saw the woman in my life. If I did I ran across her accidentally on the street, as I would you or a hundred others, as one must necessarily when he is out."

"Are you sure you never attended her for any ailment, Doctor?"

"I most assuredly am. It is presumed that I, of all others, should know best who I meet in my professional duties."

"How do you account for the statement of the woman as to your having attended her?"

"She's mistaken, that's all. I never attended her."

"Have you much practice in obstetrics?"

"No, very little; I am a general practitioner. I am a graduate of the Missouri medical schools, and while having practiced here but two years, have, I think, a good reputation among the profession."

"What are you going to do about the charge against you?"

"I want it investigated just as soon as possible for I think it a villainous outrage that I should be locked up this way. I court inquiry and can easily prove my innocence."

Dr. Frank, the Coroner, has made a partial post-mortem examination of the body, and it shows a horrible mutilation. The death was caused directly by an attempt at abortion. An inquest will be held at 2 o'clock. The only evidence will be that of the nurse, to whom the woman made her ante-mortem statement of Dr. McWilliam having treated her, and the evidence of the Superintendent. Some one is responsible for the woman's death, and while it points to McWilliam as the guilty person it can not be verified until more light is thrown on the case.

Hotel Improvements.

The St. James and the Everett Hotels have commenced an enlargement and general improvement of their buildings to-day. The St. James has leased three stories of the new Olympic building, which will be added to the old house. The dining room will be removed to the second floor, and the first floor thrown into an immense rotunda with offices. Nearly all the partitions on the top floors will be removed, and the St. James be refitted and refurnished from top to bottom. The Everett will tear down the interior partitions of the first floor and make a handsome rotunda. An entrance is being fashioned from the first floor into the restaurant opening on Olive street, converting the Everett into a European hotel. Refurnishing has commenced and will be continued rapidly. This gives the city two more first-class hotels, and adds to the local accommodations in a very material way.

TRUSTEE'S SALE.—Whereas by a certain deed of trust dated the 10th day of June, A. D. 1878, and recorded in the Recorder's office of Shannon county, State of Missouri, in book 4, at pages 155, 156, 157 and 158, Martha Griffith, a femme sole of the city of St. Louis, State of Missouri, did convey to the undersigned the real estate in said deed of trust described as follows, viz.: Lots numbers one (1) and two (2) in township number twenty-nine (29) north of range number five (5) west, containing three hundred and twenty acres, more or less; which said deed was made in trust to secure the payment of a certain promissory note in said deed of trust fully described. And whereas said deed of trust contained a power to said trustee to appoint an attorney in fact to execute said trust in his stead; and whereas said trustee has duly appointed Wm F. Wickham, of the City of St. Louis, State of Missouri, by his certain written instrument, under seal, and recorded in the Recorder's office of Shannon County, State of Missouri, his attorney in fact to execute said trust; and whereas said note is now past due and remains unpaid; Now, therefore, under the provisions of said deed of trust and at the request of the legal holder of said note, I will, on the sell said real estate, at public vendue to the highest bidder, for cash, at the east front door of the Court-house of the city of St. Louis, between the hours of 10 o'clock a. m. and 3 o'clock p. m. of that day, for the purposes of said trust.

SHERIFF'S SALE UNDER DEED OF TRUST.—Whereas Charles H. Eldridge, by his deed dated the 9th of June, A. D. 1880, and recorded in the Recorder's office of the city of St. Louis, in book 631, page 184, conveyed to Theophile Papin in trust the following described real estate lying and being situated in the city of St Louis, State of Missouri, to-wit: Lots numbered seventeen (17) and eighteen (18) of and in the subdivision by the Bank of California of lot number thirty (30) in Peter Lindell's second addition to St. Louis, according to a plat of said subdivision filed in the office of the Recorder of Deeds, etc. for the city of St. Louis, State of Missouri, in plat book No. 11, page No 64, said lots 17 and 18 fronting together one hundred feet on north side of Laclede avenue, by a depth of 210 feet 2¼ inches to an alley 26 feet wide; which said conveyance was made in trust to secure the payment of two certain promissory notes in said deed described. And whereas one of the said notes remains due and unpaid, and the said Theophile Papin, said trustee, is absent from the State of Missouri and from the United States, and is therefore disabled from carrying out the powers upon him conferred in and by said deed of trust, and the Circuit Court City of St. Louis having made an order on the 15th day of June, 1882 appointing the sheriff of the City of St. Louis trustee, to execute said deed of trust in lieu and place of the original trustee. Now, therefore notice is hereby given that, at the request of the legal holder of said notes, and by virtue of the said order of court, and in pursuance of the provisions of said deed of trust, the undersigned will, on between the hours of 9 o'clock in the forenoon and 5 o'clock in the afternoon of that day, at the east front door of the Court-house in the city of St. Louis, State of Missouri, proceed to sell at public vendue, to the highest bidder, for cash, the above described real estate, to satisfy said notes and the costs of executing said trust.

TRUSTEE SALE.—Whereas Bridget Gaughan and Thomas Gaughan, her husband, by their deed of trust dated May 28, A. D. 1870 recorded in the Recorder's office of the county (now city) of St. Louis, State of Missouri, in book 407, page 179, conveyed to Irwin Z. Smith in trust to secure the payment of certain notes therein fully described, the following described piece or parcel of ground, situated in the county of St. Louis and State of Missouri, being lot No. fifty-six (56) as laid down on a plat of East Kirkwood, which said plat is duly of record in the Recorder's office of St. Louis county; said lot is bounded on the north by Gordon street and Leffingwell avenue; east by Holmes avenue, south by Big Bend road and west by Gordon street and lot fifty-seven (57) of said town, containing twelve and thirty-five hundredths (12 35-100) acres, to the center of the street.

And whereas the said Irwin Z. Smith died without having executed said trust, and the undersigned was appointed trustee in place and stead of the said Smith by the Circuit Court of St. Louis County; and whereas the said notes have long since been due and the principal and two interest notes remain unpaid; therefore, at the request of the legal holder of said notes and by virtue of the provisions of said deed of trust, I, the undersigned trustee, will, on between the hours of 10 o'clock in the forenoon and 5 o'clock in the afternoon, at the eastern front of the Court-house in said city of St. Louis sell the above described property at public vendue, to the highest bidder, for cash, to satisfy said trust.

TRUSTEE'S SALE.—Whereas B. Maziere Chambers and Marie C. Chambers, his wife, by their certain deed of trust, dated the 26th day of September, 1878, and recorded in book 6, page 532, of the Recorder's office of the county of St. Louis, Missouri, conveyed to the undersigned trustee their interest in the following described property, to-wit: All that parcel or tract of land, containing one hundred and eighty-three acres and eighty-hundredths of an acre (183 80-100 acres), in section one (1), township forty-six (46), range six (6), the northwest quarter. All that parcel or tract of land, containing sixty acres (60 acres), in section one (1), township forty-six (46), range six (6), the southwest fractional quarter. All that parcel or tract of land containing sixty seven and seventy-six one-hundredths acres (67 76-100 acres) in section one (1), township forty-six (46), range six (6), the southeast fractional quarter. All that parcel or tract of land containing one hundred and two acres and twenty-four hundredths of an acre (102 24-100 acres) in section one (1), township forty-six (46), range six (6), the north half of the north-east quarter. All that parcel or tract of land containing fifty-seven acres and ninety-hundredths of an acre (57 90-100 acres) in section thirty-five (35), township forty-seven (47), range six (6), the fractional section. All that parcel or tract of land containing ninety-three and seventy-three one-hundredths acres (93 73-100 acres) in section seventeen (17), township forty-seven (47), range seven (7), the southwest fractional quarter. All that parcel or tract of land containing forty-three acres (43 acres) in section eighteen (18), township forty-seven (47), range seven (7), the southeast fractional quarter; and all that parcel or tract of land containing two hundred and ninety-three acres and thirty-four hundredths of an acre (293 34-100 acres) in section twenty (20), township forty-seven (47), range seven (7), the fractional section. All the foregoing mentioned tracts of land being in St. Ferdinand township, county of St. Louis, and State of Missouri. Said conveyance was made in trust to secure the payment of a certain promissory note in said deed described; and whereas said note is past due and unpaid; now, therefore, at the request of the legal holder of said note, and by virtue of the authority vested in me by said deed of trust, I, the undersigned trustee, will offer said property for sale, at public vendue, and sell the same to the highest bidder, for cash, at the front door of the Court-house of St. Louis county (at Clayton), Mo., between the hours of 10 o'clock a. m. and 5 o'clock p. m. of
